Wm. J. Montgomery Widely Mourned

This community was deeply shocked to learn of the sudden passing of William James Montgomery, prominent local garage operator, at his cottage at Glen Ross on Friday last.

Born in Rawdon Township, he was the son of Mr. Edward Montgomery and the late Mrs. Montgomery, and had resided all his life in Stirling district. He took an active interest in all community events and served on the Village Council for a number of years.

"Bill," as he was popularly known, possessed a cheery and friendly disposition and was well known throughout a wide area. His passing is deeply regretted by a wide circle of friends. Fraternally he was a member of Stirling Lodge, No. 239, I.O.O.F., and in religion was an adherent of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

He leaves to mourn his passing his father, Edward Montgomery, of Foxboro, his wife, the former Irene Bertrand; two sons, Maurice, of Stirling and Robert at home; two daughters, Mrs. Jack (Marie) Hannah, of Frankford, and Barbara Ann at home; two grandchildren; one brother, George, of Frankford, and one sister, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, R.R. 3, Stirling. A brother, John Allan Montgomery, of Colborne, predeceased him last June.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held on Monday afternoon, with the service in his late residence being conducted by Rev. W. H. V. Walker, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

The pallbearers were Messrs. E. D. Ketcheson, Leonard Sharp, Burton Woodbeck, Bruce Bell, A. Greenley and M. Malloy.

Interment in Stirling Cemetery.

Legion To Build Hall

Important decisions were made at the regular business meeting of the Stirling Legion on Tuesday, June 4th with Cde. Pres. Ross Kirn in the chair. The branch not only endorsed the action of the executive council in purchasing a building lot from X. P. Mayhew on the east side of No. 14 Highway, but unanimously decided to proceed with the erection of a Legion Hall as soon as plans can be completed. The executive were given the responsibility of deciding on a suitable building and the commencement of work thereon.

It will be recalled that during the latter part of last year the Legion spent a considerable sum of money and much labour on the skating arena, and at the same time postponed their plans for a home of their own. It is now felt that the time is long past due for the erection of a Legion Hall.

Detlor -- Richards Nuptials At Frankford

Frankford United Church parsonage was the setting on Saturday, May 25th at 2.00 p.m. for a pretty May wedding when the Reverend C. E. Clarke, pastor of the church, united in marriage Marion Pearl Richards, of Frankford, daughter of Mr. Howard Richards and the late Mrs. Richards, to Douglas Harold Detlor, of Stirling R.R.4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Detlor.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her bridal gown of French tulle, bodice of Valenciennes lace having sheath-like sleeves with turnback, pointed cuffs, and scalloped V-neckline. The waltz-length skirt of tiered tulle was gracefully full. She wore a headdress studded with rhinestones, and waist-length veil of tulle illusion, pearl necklace, and matching earrings, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Gweneth Bush, of Frankford, R.R. 2, was her only attendant, attired in a scalloped pink suede lace bodice having a bateau neckline and three-quarter length sleeves with turnback cuffs ending in "V" points. The billowing skirt of pink crystalette was in waltz-length. She wore a matching headress, pink earrings and carried a nosegay of roses, 'mums, sweet peas and lily-of-the-valley.

Mr. Keith Richards, of Frankford, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

For the wedding trip to New York State by motor, the bride chose a blue tweed suit with white accessories, and corsage of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Detlor will reside at Stirling R.R. 4.

Barlow -- Devolin Wedding At Madoc

Mauve and white 'mums interspersed with ferns adorned the front of the church and baby 'mums with white satin streamers the guest pews for a pretty wedding in Trinity United Church, Madoc, on Saturday, May 18th at high noon, when Margaret Eileen Devolin, Madoc, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ogle Devolin, was united in marriage to Harold John Barlow, Bonarlaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Barlow.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. F. Lane, pastor of the church.

Miss Ruth Mumby, Harold, provided the wedding music and accompanied Miss Marilyn Eggleton, of Toronto, cousin of the bride, who sang, "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of Swiss embroidered tulle over satin. The gown featured a boat type neckline of tulle over fitted strapless bodice of satin, into a very full bouffant skirt emphasized by tiers of embroidered tulle. A julliet cap of pleated tulle illusion and scattered with seed pearls and rhinestones on lace applique held a softly caught veil of tulle illusion scattered with opalescent sequins. She carried a cascade of red roses.

Miss Audrey Devolin, West Huntingdon, sister of the bride, was maid of honour attired in a waltz-length gown of pale green chiffon over net and satin with bouffant skirt. She wore a large picture hat and gloves of same material, and carried a nosegay of pink carnations and white 'mums.

Dr. Hedley Barlow, Edmonton, Alta., brother of the groom, attended the bridegroom, and the ushers were Mr. Jesse Barlow, Ottawa, and Mr. Ross Devolin, Madoc.

The reception was held in the IOOF Hall, Madoc, where the bride's mother received the guests attired in a navy crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother wearing a powder blue duster ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's table was prettily appointed with white damask centered by a four-tier wedding cake.

For travelling to Florida the bride donned a green tweed suit with black and white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Guests were present from Toronto, Ottawa, Peterborough, Oshawa, Trenton, Belleville, Stirling, Marmora and Havelock.

Annual Meeting Hastings Board For Blind At St. John's Church

"I hope people realize how precious, how much appreciated, is their help in lending their eyes to those who have been deprived of sight," said Mr. A. W. Sparks, supervisor of field services for the Ontario branch of the Canadian Institute for the Blind, as he addressed the Hastings County Advisory Board and guests at the annual dinner meeting in St. John's Anglican Church, Stirling, on Thursday evening, May 30th.

"The Institute came into existence thirty-nine years ago, headed by a blind man with courage and inner vision, Col. A. E. Baker," said Mr. Sparks. "They set out to ascertain how many blind persons there were in Canada, to analyze the conditions under which they existed, and to provide facilities for those so handicapped to climb a higher rung on the social ladder. We bring heartfelt thanks that you had the faith so strongly kindled that you lit a lamp of kindness that means so much.

The Women's Guild of St. John's Church provided the excellent meal and the Rector, Rev. H. C. Secker, pronounced the Invocation and welcomed the members on behalf of the Church and also for the Village of Stirling in the absence of the Reeve.

Chairman of the Board, T. J. Flurey, presided at the meeting, stating in his annual report that the Board had had a successful year with the members striving to bring sunshine, comfort and pleasure to the blind. Seated at the head table with the chairman were Mrs. G. Wishart, Mrs. Tiesson, Rev. H. C. Secker, and Messrs. P. I. Timmins, A. W. Sparks, Mark Tripp and R. Padden.

Reports Read

Secretary Everett Fairman read the minutes, followed by reports from the county representatives: Bancroft, Mrs. A. R. Towle; Foxboro, Mrs. M. J. Waller; Frankford, H. J. Madill; Madoc, Mrs. D. Kernohan and Mrs. G. Winters; Stirling, Mrs. F. W. Houchin; Trenton, A. J. Boorne; Tweed, Mrs. J. LeSage.

The home teacher, Mrs. M. Tiesson, gave an interesting report of her work with instruction being given to sixty-three people in the six counties which she visits, twenty-one of these in Hastings county. The teacher goes into the homes and knows each pupil personally. There are many problems to be solved. Sometimes the newly-blind cannot adjust to their sightless condition and are very fretful, and extremely unhappy. One who has had a little sight and then loses it presents a special problem. Some make a wonderful adjustment to their lack of vision.

Small children begin to realize that they are slightly different from normal children, and sometimes become extremely shy and withdrawn, until they are made to realize that they do not have to stay at home. Then there are the interesting old people. Some people have other handicaps besides blindness and Mrs. Tiesson described her method of teaching a young man, blind and a deaf mute, with finger reading.

In Picton a social group has been formed for craft classes. They have a beautiful room, the pupils are brought there, leather work, sewing and knitting are taught; tea and cookies are served, and they enjoy fun and banter. This working group fills an important need in their lives and Mrs. Tiesson urged the members to visit the blind, to take them for rides, to the beach or on a picnic, or perhaps to write a letter for them, or do some mending.

Reports On Residence

Mr. Mark Tripp gave a report from the Trenton district, and Mr. A. J. Boorne, representative on the Board of Governors, brought the report from the Quinte-St. Lawrence residence.

Two vocal solos were given by Mrs. B. Woodbeck, Stirling.

Mr. R. Padden, assistant field secretary, reported that the board had been able to help save the sight of many people, and had provided glasses for several who would have had trouble doing their daily tasks. One girl from the country had left the Ontario School for the Blind to take training and was now working. Several had had jobs found for them.

In his report as campaign chairman, Mr. H. J. Fuke's figures showed an increase of $853.95 over the previous year. The financial statement read by the treasurer, Miss E. Roblin, was gratifying, with a small surplus of $294.76, the first time the Board has had anything but a deficit.

Field secretary P. I. Timmins, of Kingston explained the main objectives of the CNIB, to ameliorate the condition of blindness and to prevent it where possible. The Board furthers and supports the work of the Institute by doing something constructive to help blind people to help themselves. The Board was doing a useful service which was worthwhile to provide a broader programme of services and greater care, he said. The Board was being asked to help in national and divisional services to make up deficits in other boards. This year a canvass is being planned for Belleville to take place of the tag day and letter appeal and will be convened by Mrs. G. Wishart.

Officers Elected

Mr. A. D. Archibald brought in the slate of officers for the nominating committee with the following elected to the Board: President, T. J. Flurey; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. G. Wishart; 2nd Vice-President, Mark Tripp; 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. LeSage; Secretary, Everett Fairman; Treasurer, Miss E. Roblin; Campaign Chairman, H. J. Fuke and A. J. Boorne; Welfare, Miss M. Peck; Public Relations, Mrs. M. C. Ward.

Mrs. N. C. Wilbur was named to replace Mrs. Ray Lennox who is moving from the district.

Mr. A. W. Sparks congratulated the Board on its splendid reports likening it to a fountain of inspiration with each one feeding, spreading its spray to touch all those who were served in this area.

"The change from the blind person with the tin cup to the blind of today is phenomenal," said the speaker. "It has been brought about by the blind people themselves, helped by dedicated sighted people. There was a time when, if sight was lost, a feeling of frustration was felt and the question was asked — "What can I do?" With the CNIB the only credential needed is blindness. There are 22,000 sightless in Canada, 7,000 in Ontario, and 140 in Hastings County. They miss something the normal person takes for granted, the beauty of the springtime, and seeing their young ones grow up. In 10 years seventeen residences have been built where the blind are provided with a place to live in dignity and decency. No institutional atmosphere is tolerated.

Can Become Proficient

"The range of opportunity in industry is limited, but with anything that comes with in the reach of sound, or touch the blind can become proficient. The C.N.I.B. has filled every position of its various departments with capable blind. The girls are educated to become darkroom technicians.

"When the light is suddenly shut out, the mind becomes paralyzed, anxious questions arise and anxiety builds up. The blind, like every one else, want to feel useful and needed. You are like engineers building a road where the blind travel. Take out the curves and the hills to make a safe highway for the blind. Extend a helping hand where it is needed. Your face is a mirror that reflects what is in your heart. Don't mar it by any unkind deed to those who need your help."

The speaker was introduced by Geo. Wishart and thanks wer expressed by Leslie Reid who stated that a real challenge had been given by the speaker to all to do something worth while for the blind in the country, all were inspired by the fine address to a feeling of sympathetic understanding of the needs of the blind.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

All over the world there is an astonishing revival of interest in the Bible, the Rev. W. J. Bradnock reported to the 153rd Annual Meeting of the British and Foreign Bible Society in London, England.

"Never in our history have we been committed to such a tremendous volume of translation and revision work," said Mr. Bradnock, who is secretary for translations of the British and Foreign Bible Society. "At the present moment we have 243 different language projects in hand."

Stressing that the emphasis today is upon supplying the complete New Testament and then the complete Bible, the speaker said that it was natural that as native churches grew they should require all of the sacred text in their own language. There are 42 new Bibles in course of completion in Africa and Asia alone.

Because classic versions of the Scriptures require long years of study and use to bring them to perfection there has been a tremendous increase in the growth of revision work. In Africa and Asia this year 19 Bibles and 26 New Testaments are undergoing revision.

Wherever missionaries are still free to work they must bring the scholarly resources of the west to the aid of local language experts as they seek to produce suitable translations of the Bible. "We must, however," stated Mr. Bradnock, "recognize that this is urgent and time is not our friend."

Canadian Boom Lacks Labour Says Economist

A very serious economic problem is envisaged by a Toronto economist, unless some constructive steps are taken to deal with the increasing labour shortage.

"We are expanding our economy at a rate which corresponds with a doubling in fifteen years. At a time when Canada needs all the manpower possible to keep up with this expansion, we are experiencing an acute labour shortage," declared Mr. Gilbert Jackson, Economist, speaking to a meeting of the Gerontology Committee of the Health League of Canada held recently.

"The cause of the shortage is threefold: First of all we have the lengthening of the educational process. Secondly, we are living through a progressive shortening of the work week, and not only are we short of labour but those who are still willing to do a job insist on working a shorter week this year than last and so on. Thirdly, we are pensioning elderly workers while a great many of these people are still capable of earning a living."

Mr. Jackson said that these three influences working together in the same direction when we have a shortage of labour are creating a very, very serious economic porblem, and creating this problem at a time when Canada is entering on a period of unparallelled economic progress.

"I suspect that we are going to live in embarassing shortage of labour for the rest of our lives," he said, "embarassing to everybody who wants to consume the products of labour, as long as we have a population which grows faster than the numbers of our working population grows," he concluded.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

THE BEST VOYAGE

A friend and I had been to Selkirk, watching workmen make ready the S.S. Kenora for the coming trips to Norway House, and we had been so enthralled we very nearly booked passage.

That evening, I told another old friend about the day, and how we had enjoyed it, fancying ourselves going to Norway House, then further along to the Bay, where so much of Manitoba's history began.

He listened, smiling. Then, perhaps because my face was flushed with pleasure at the prospects of such a journey, he said, "Well, don't feel to bad about not making the actual voyage. Sometimes the very best adventures are only pure imagination."

Sounded very wise to me, that observation, so I nodded in agreement. "Guess you're right," I said.

"Bosh!" exclaimed my friend. "I'm not right, and you should know it. I'm surprised at you, agreeing with such poppycock. The adventures that are worthwhile are the real adventures, the trips you actually take, the things you get done. Never accept a dream in substitution for the real thing!"

So this summer, when the ship is made ready, I propose to be aboard her, and travel to Norway House. Perhaps the voyage will have less adventure than the one I'm dreaming of, but it will be real.

The best things, always, are the real things. To build a good, sound, solid garage is better than merely to dream of building castles. To write a few good sentences is better than merely to dream of turning out the Great Canadian novel. To earn food, shelter and some leisure for your family is better than merely to dream of being a billionaire.

CONSERVATION NEWS !

Forest Protection

Showers during the week helped ease the fire danger and hazard conditions were generally low to medium throughout the District.

One small fire was reported in the Township of Limerick, apparently caused by a spark from a railway locomotive, and one in Kaladar Township was blamed on careless smokers.

Campers and fishermen are asked to make certain that campfires are dead out when leaving camp sites. This is most important as many a black looking campfire has returned to life to destroy forest areas.

In addition to the dangerous campfire, Department Officials point out that cigarettes, cigars, pipe heels, pipe ashes and burning matches are deadly enemies of the forest and they should be constantly kept in mind. The remedy for forest fire problems is very simple, it is the use of common sense by those who travel in the woods.

Deer Herd In Excellent Condition

The deer herd in the Tweed District came through the winter in excellent condition. Now that they have escaped the most rigorous condition, which is the weather, many are now falling prey to other elements. This time it's cars, wire fences and dogs which their owners allow to run at large.

Recently three deer were brought into the District Office for examination. Officers in the field have examined several others. Examinations of deer which are killed throughout the winter and spring bring forth many interesting points such as general conditions on the health of the deer population and reproduction rate. The information gathered is required in our studies on deer management. Any person who finds a dead deer, regardless of the condition, should report it to any officer of the Department of Lands and Forests.

Longer Deer Season Suggested

Recently Officers from the Tweed and Kemptville Districts attended a large gathering of hunters from the Ottawa River Valley, in Almonte. One of the interesting points brought forward by the hunters was their unanimous desire to have a longer deer season, and to have the season fixed or in other words, become permanent such as — opening day to be the first Monday in November with the season extending for three weeks. Actually this would mean that one could plan his hunt in advance and holidays could be set from one year to the next.

We think the hunters may have something there and to add to this, they brought forth other points in favour of a longer and a set season such as, it might relieve the congestion of hunters who flock in for the opening day and the first week of the hunt. People who are unable to get time off from their work could have at least three week-ends (three Saturdays) in which to hunt. Also that the hunting pressure would not be any greater, it wouldn't mean that more deer would be killed and it would also settle the old argument as to whether the season was too early or too late.

Persons with deep freezers could try for their meat early, those that wanted to keep their venison and had no means of storing, could wait until the weather got colder. Travel could be by boat for those who use waterways to get to their camps or by frozen ground and swamp lands.

To sum it up — everyone would have a fair shake in this ever increasing recreation requirement.

Passing In The Night

All the advantages and disadvantages of dimming headlights when passing oncoming vehicles at night have been enumerated again and again.

It now appears that illumination maintains a sort of balance, where only the dim wits keep their lights bright.

THE FOOD BASKET

HAMBURG RANKS HIGH ON TODAY'S SHOPPING LIST

Once upon a time hamburg was rated as the plainest sort of meat — good for people on a budget but shunned by those who could regularly afford to buy T-bone steaks and standing rib roasts. Times have changed, however, and today most homemakers realize that they can made a wonderful variety of dishes with this good minced beef. Ask any butcher which meat is most popular with his customers, day in and day out, and he will always answer "hamburg, of course."

No doubt you have your own favourite ways of cooking hamburg but would like to do it differently once in awhile. From the Consumer Section here are a few suggestions for hamburg dishes that you may not yet have tried:

Start with hamburg, and surprise your family with a Meat Ball Stew. It takes less time to cook than ordinary stew and is sure to meet with approval.

Start with hamburg, and make delicious Italian-Style Spaghetti with Meat Sauce or Meat Balls. It's perfect for a buffet meal. Be sure to make plenty as everyone will want seconds.

Start with hamburg and make a meat pie. Cook the hamburg first with chopped onions and seasonings then put it between two crusts like an ordinary pie, or leave out the bottom crust and top with pastry, biscuit dough, or mashed potatoes. For a change, serve up-side-down, with meat on top.

Start with hamburg, and make a delicious meat loaf. For a party make the meat loaf in a ring mould. When it's cooked unmould the meat ring and glaze it in oven or broiler with a tomato sauce. To serve, fill the centre of the ring with buttered cauliflower, green beans or other vegetable of contrasting colour.

Start with hamburg and make Quick Supper Chili. Here's the Consumer Section recipe:

Quick Supper Chili

1½ cups sliced onion
1pound hamburg
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 to 2 teaspoons chili powder
1½ cups tomato juice
1 15-oz. can kidney beans

Brown onion in a small amount of fat. Remove from heat. Brown meat about 10 minutes. Add browned onion and remaining ingredients. Cover and simmer slowly until thickened, about 20 minutes. 4 to 6 servings.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

WEED OF THE WEEK

DUAL TREATMENT NEEDED TO DESTROY GOAT'S BEARD

Yellow Goat's Beard is a weed of European origin that has become well established in parks, roadsides, along railroads and in permanent and long term pastures in Ontario, reports the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

It has a tall, smooth stem, 2 to 3 feet in height; the leaves are broad at the base, tapering to a long wrinkled, curled point; and the plant is crowned with bright yellow flowers which early in July form downy seed heads, round like a dandelion but much larger. The seeds are equipped with parachutes which make travelling easy, especially as they also do a bit of hitchhiking by clinging to the wheels of motor vehicles. In the bud stage, and when the flowers are closed at night, the head resembles a goat's beard, which is the reason for the popular name.

Goat's Beard has a long tap root which does not stand cultivation. The plant contains a thick milky juice disliked by livestock; hence it is not controlled by grazing.

In the early stages of growth before budding, it can be destroyed by using 2,4-D at the rate of 6 to 8 ounces per acre, but often is not noticed at this time because it resembles coarse grass However, this is the best time to spray pasture land, not only for Goat's Beard, but for a variety of weeds which are most susceptible at that time. Cutting is only successful before blossoming and must be repeated frequently since it grows back and blossoms after repeated mowing. Stray plants should be pulled and destroyed as blossoms will ripen and spread seed if the weed is left lying about after cutting or pulling. Several applications of 2,4-D at about 16 ounces per acre will kill the tap root, but this amount of chemical will also destroy many pasture grasses.

A combination of cultural and chemical treatment is needed to rid the countryside of Goat's Beard.

FARM AND HOME WEEK AT THE O.A.C.

From June 11th to June 14th, thousands of farmers from all parts of the province will visit the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph to see the latest developments in modern agriculture. The College and its faculty will be "at home" to their farmer friends for four days. The occasion will be the annual Farm and Home Week, which has been an institution at the College since the early days, when our grandfather and grandmother took an excursion train to Guelph to spend a day at the Model Farm. If grandfather could visit the College this year, he would see many changes taking place, for the 1957 guests will come in the midst of the largest building programme in the history of the College.

One of the outstanding features of the 1957 programme will be a parade of exhibits showing the answer to the modern farmers number one problem, which is how to make enough money to carry on in this highly competitive era. The exhibits will depict the standards that must be maintained on the farm in order to keep farm income at a sufficiently high level.

Being demonstrated for the first time in Canada is a new fibre glass silo, thirty feet high, with walls only ¼ of an inch thick.

Pole Barns, Loose Housing for cattle, and other new ideas in farm buildings and farm equipment will be demonstrated, and discussed by staff members.

The Dairy Department will feature demonstrations on the production of high quality milk.

Improved methods of dehorning and the latest Beef herd testing programs will be discussed by the Animal Husbandry Department.

For the ladies there will be a discussion of the packaging of frozen foods, and a demonstration of the latest thing in Home Economics — the electronic cooker.

These are only a few of the interesting developments that the visitors to Farm and Home Week will have the opportunity of seeing, as the O.A.C. becomes for four days the Mecca of Ontario Farmers.

The usual Livestock Review will demonstrate the cream of the College flocks and herds, and will feature the performance of the College six horse team of Clydesdales.

In addition, as part of the 50th Anniversary of the Agricultural Representative Service, visitors will see exhibits depicting the story of this service from its beginning.

For the convenience of the guests, buses have been arranged to take them to all parts of the campus with a minimum of discomfort.

EGG QUALITY AND POULTRY PROFITS

Improved flock management is rapidly reflected in increased profits according to E. R. Hooey, Poultry Inspector for the Canada Department of Agriculture, Production Service. Such factors as feed wastage, culling, labor, balanced rations and egg marketing, must be considered in a well managed poultry programme.

As feed comprises approximately 65 per cent of the cost of egg production, this is the logical place to reduce expenses. However, this should not be done by limiting total feed consumption. A surprising amount of feed is wasted each day due to carelessness on the part of the operator and improper construction and location of feed troughs. By careful planning, practically all of these losses can be eliminated.

Culling is also important in the cost of egg production as it costs about 30 cents per month to feed a non-layer. Pullets should be culled when put in the laying pens so that only strong, vigorous, well-matured birds are kept. If a pullet is not laying by six months, chances are she will never be a high producer.

Egg flavour and grades are often adversely affected through excessive amounts of green feed. For this reason hens should receive complete rations. This will ensure desirable egg flavour, uniform yolk colour, upstanding yolks and clean, white, strong shells. Frequent egg gathering and early marketing regardless of storage facilities on the farm is desirable, as quality deteriorates rapidly even under the most favourable conditions.

Operating costs could be reduced still further by conserving labour through the use of properly constructed poultry houses and good organization.

ONTARIO SWINE TEST RECORDS

Out of a total of 1,166 pigs marketed from the Ontario Swine Test Station in 1956, there were 73.2 per cent in the "A" grade compared to the average figure for all Ontario swine marketed of 33.5 per cent. The test swine came from 278 groups entered in the Record of Performance for Swine by 98 breeders, 71.9 per cent of the groups qualified in Advanced Registry with an average score of 78. The average size of litters from which the groups came was 10 pigs. All the pigs were self-fed and the average feed consumption for the year was 4.6 pounds of feed per pound of carcass gain, or 3.6 pounds per pound of live weight gain. The 15 highest groups graded 100 per cent "A", had an average Advanced Registry score of 89, were marketed at the age of 188 days and gained a pound of live weight for each 3.51 pounds of feed.

CANADIAN SEED POTATOES POPULAR

Canada has been supplying fairly large quantities of certified seed potatoes to Jamaica for the past 20 years. In 1955-56 almost 40,000 bushels were supplied mostly of Sebago variety. The Jamaican government supplies certified seed to growers at a nominal price and in order to prevent such subsidized potatoes from being used as table stock, all seed potatoes must be suitably marked. The marking is done by applying a blue vegetable dye to the tubers when they are being packed. All shipments to Jamaica are packed in crates containing 110 pounds. Formerly barrels containing 165 pounds were used.

As an indication of the high quality of Canadian seed in use in Jamaica, Foreign Trade, a publication of the Department of Trade and Commerce reported in the December 8th, 1956 issue that the Sebago seed gave an average yield of at least 9 to 1. Prior to the introduction of Canadian Sebago seed the yield varied around 6 to 1.

Plans are being made to import 12,000 cases of Sebago seed from Canada next year and 3,000 cases of Arran Consul from Scotland. Because the local crop does not meet the Islands total requirements, 1,200 tons of table potatoes will be allowed in from all countries when domestic stocks are used up in November.

DARTFORD HOLSTEIN MAKES LARGE RECORD

An exceptionally large Record of Performance test has been completed by Honeykine Governess Jean, a member of the purebred Holstein herd of Honey Bros., Dartford, Ont. As a senior three year old Jean produced in 365 days on twice-a-day milking a total of 19,642 lbs. milk, containing 787 lbs. butterfat, average test 4.01%. This record has a breed class average of 174% for milk and 190% for fat.

Previously Jean had produced at 2 years in 365 days on twice-a-day milking, 17,013 lbs. milk containing 665 lbs. fat, average test 3.91% butterfat. This record was amongst the top five completed in Canada last year.

"Save A Life"

Water is a good friend — but it can also be a deadly enemy.

Hundreds of thousands of Canadians each year enjoy swimming and boating on the thousands of lakes and streams with which this land is blessed. But each year there is a tragic toll and some 1,000 Canadians lose their lives in drowning accidents.

More care is needed by people in or on the water. And, to be ready for emergencies, there is a further step we can all take — learn artificial respiration.

Commencing May 13th to the end of June, St. John Ambulance holds its annual "Save A Life Week," in advance of the swimming and boating season. During this period free two-hour classes in artificial respiration are made available to anyone wishing to learn this life-saving technique. Those wishing to attend are asked to register in advance by telephoning WO 2-3035 Belleville, or writing St. John Ambulance, 294 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

Saving the life of a person unconscious after a water accident or electric shock, poison gas or smoke, depends on immediate and knowledgeable use of artificial respiration. Even a delay of a few minutes can be fatal. Obviously, then, the greatest chance of saving a life is to have someone on hand who knows artificial respiration. Obviously, too, the more people who know artificial respiration, the more chance there is of a trained person being present when he or she is needed.

You could be that person.

St. John Ambulance will be glad to arrange a free class for any person interested in this community.

Great Slave lake in the Northwest Territories today supports the largest combined whitefish and lake trout fishery in the world.

I.O.D.E. Monthly

The regular meeting of the Honorable J. R. Cooke Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the home of Mrs. Clare West on Thursday, May 30th.

It was agreed to make a donation of $10.00 to the Stirling Festival of Sacred Praise. A book entitled, "Famous Canadian Stories," will be given to the pupil in Grade eight with the highest standing in the June examinations. It was also decided that a picture of the Honorable J. R. Cooke bearing the Chapter's plaque, be placed in the local Hydro office.

In keeping with "Commonwealth Day," Mrs. Bruce Bell gave a very interesting paper on Citizenship.

It was unfortunate that less than half the members were out to the May meeting. It is hoped that there will be better attendance at future meetings.

The business portion of the meeting closed with the singing of "God Save the Queen" and the remainder of the evening was turned over to the programme committee. Tables of euchre were enjoyed with Mrs. Don Rodgers winning the high prize and Mrs. Albert Fraser the low prize.

A tasty lunch was served by the committee. Mrs. David Duffin moved a vote of thanks on behalf of the members.

Bird -- Burgess Nuptials Saturday At St. John's

A very lovely double ring wedding ceremony was solemnized in St. John's Anglican Church, Stirling, on Saturday, June 1st, by the Rev. H. C. Secker, when Lois Evelyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Burgess, Stirling, Ont., became the bride of Mr. Robert Arthur Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bird, Toronto.

Tall white standards filled with spirea, tulips and iris, enhanced the chancel and on the altar were bouquets of white lilac and red peonies. Miss Ruth Mumby played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Bruce Glendinning, who sang Handel's "Where'er You Walk" and "Still As The Night" by Paul Bohn.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked radiant in a floor length picture gown of white chantilly lace and tulle, fashioned with a strapless bodice and rhinestone studded lace inserts on the full skirt. A long sleeved lace jacket completed the costume. She wore a matching finger-tip veil of lace and tulle illusion caught up with a seed pearl headdress and carried a bouquet of white carnations and peach gladioli.

The bridesmaid, Miss Marjory Eva Ketcheson, was charming in an azure blue ballerina length full skirted dress of silk with a shirred bodice studded with rhinestones. She wore a matching blue headdress and gloves. Her flowers were soft yellow shasta 'mum daisies interspersed with deep blue cornflowers.

The best man, brother of the groom, was Mr. Wm. Garth Bird, and the ushers Mr. Don Nealon and Mr. Howie Cousins. The groom and his attendants were in military dress as members of the RCAF.

At a reception held at the Queensway Hotel, Trenton, the bride's mother received wearing a periwinkle blue crepe dress with beige accessories and corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Sydmer Bird, in a navy and white dress with pale blue-grey flowered hat and corsage of yellow roses. Also in the reception line the stepmother of the groom looked charming in poudre blue silk gown with white accessories and pink carnations.

The happy couple left for the Muskoka district, the bride travelling in a mauve and white linen two piece suit with white accessories and gardenia corsage.

P.C.'S Score Sweeping Victories In All District Constituencies

G. S. White Re-elected For Fifth Term — Lee Grills Winner In Hastings South

Keeping in step with the general trend across Canada, with the exception of Quebec, Progressive-Conservative candidates in this area scored victories in Monday's election.

Geo. S. White Gets Fifth Term

In Hastings-Frontenac, of which the northern part of this Village, forms a part, Geo. S. White scored an overwhelming victory to start his fifth term.

Figures available Tuesday noon covering 137 of the 168 polls in the riding gave Geo. White (P.C.) 9,748 votes, Elmer Wood (Lib.) 4,324 and C. P. Jenkins (S.C.) 1,749.

This means that George White's majority has climbed steeply from the 3,500 he obtained in the 1953 election, with nearly 5,500 already and the chance that it will climb towards the 6,000 mark as the remaining 31 polls are reported.

The result by polls in Stirling and Rawdon were as follows:

	White	Wood	Jenkins
Stirling	300	79	3
Rawdon Township
Ridge Road	109	37	4
Mt. Pleasant	138	47	2
Wellman's	91	36	5
Minto	95	27	2
Springbrook	150	26	14
Bonarlaw	109	14	12

Grills Victor Over Follwell

Lee Grills, Progressive Conservative, made his second attempt a winning one when he defeated Frank Follwell member for Hastings South for the past eight years.

Mr. Grills polled 13,473 votes as against 10,862 for Mr. Follwell, with returns from eight polling booths in the riding yet to be received. Mr. Bazil Kuglin, Social Credit candidate, polled 556 votes. Mr. Grills' majority was 2,611.

The polls not yet heard from because the returns were missent, wrongly made out and in one case forgotten, include three from Trenton, two from Frankford, one from Thurlow and two from Tyendinaga.

In this Village Grills (P.C.) got 161, Follwell (Lib.) 63, and Bazil Kuglin (S.C.) 8.

Milligan Winner

Clarence Milligan, of Napanee, carrying the Progressive Conservative banner, swept to an easy victory in Prince Edward-Lennox in Monday's Federal election, piling up a 3,101 vote lead over his nearest opponent, Liberal Clinton Green, of Cherry Valley. Third candidate was Wilbur Crandall, Social Credit, who obtained 525 votes to 5,714 for Mr. Green and 8,815 for Mr. Milligan.

Thompson Scores Upset

In Northumberland County Ben Thompson scored a political upset by defeating Dr. F. G. Robertson, Parliamentary Assistant to the Hon. Paul Martin, Minister of Health. At 33 he is the youngest Progressive Conservative to win an election on his first attempt. Thompson (P.C.) received 10,062, Dr. G. G. Robertson (Liberal) 9,035, a Conservative majority of 1,027. In the 1953 election the Liberal majority was 1,530.

Thieves visited the premises of Majestic Cleaners and the Stirling News-Argus on Wednesday night. In the former premises they gained entrance through the front door and at the News-Argus they jimmied a window at the rear of the building.

The cash register at the cleaning plant was pried open and at the News-Argus a small safe was jimmied. In the former instance their efforts were fruitless but at the News-Argus they took a sum of money. No cheques were taken.

Corporal Sears of the Belleville Detachment O.P.P. investigated.

The serving of a delicious lunch brought the evening to a close.

Rotary Club Holds Dinner Meeting

Plans Made For Street Fair, Playground and Transporting Children To Oak Lake

The regular weekly meeting of the Stirling Rotary Club was held at Dr. R. Vandervoort's cottage on Tuesday night and the members were out in full force to make final plans for the annual Street Fair. It will include a dance, bingo, prizes and the draw for the motor, boat and trailer.

Since the Club has taken on a large programme this year, the usual support of the citizens of Stirling and district will be very much appreciated both in buying tickets on the boat, and by attending the Street Fair. The Rotary members are grateful for the support accorded their efforts in the past and fully realize that were it not for the good people of this area, the Rotary Club could not accomplish the work it is doing.

Much credit for the success of the evening goes to Rotary Anns Pauline Bird, Faye Vandervoort and Barbara Noble.

Cub Social Successful

The lawn social sponsored by the Stirling Cubs on the local public school grounds last night proved successful. A large crowd attended and the Cubs will realize a nice sum for their efforts.

Presentation of Cribbage Board

While in attendance at the Mayors' and Reeves' Convention at Chatham recently, Reeve J. V. Holt was presented with a cribbage board, 4 ft. in length by Mayor Simpson, of Arnprior. On Saturday last Reeve Holt presented it to the cribbage players at Grant Potter's barber shop.

Mrs. Clifford Lansing Speaker At St. Paul's W.M.S. Meeting

On Tuesday afternoon the members of St. Paul's W.M.S. turned out in goodly numbers for the last meeting of the half year, with leaders and members of the younger groups of the Missionary family of the Church taking part in the service.

Following quiet music by the pianist, Mrs. Russell Stapley, the President, Mrs. George Carlisle, opened the meeting with the call to worship and prayer.

Business

During the business part of the meeting, Mrs. David Luery read the minutes of the May meeting, mentioning the bake sale and tea to be held in the Church Parlours in June, the proceeds to go for purchasing materials for the supply work. Mrs. Luery also read two most interesting letters from two young women in whom the Auxiliary is interested. One was Miss Muriel Stephenson, a Missionary Evangelist in Mandleshwar, India. At the time of writing she was in Ceylon for a much needed rest of a few weeks, and she told of the beauty of that island, and its tea industry. Another letter from our Missionary for special interest and prayer, Miss Blanche Gerhard, R.N., told of her work among the Indians on the Moose Mt. Reserve in Saskatchewan. On this Reserve of 48 square miles, there live 562 people, making their living as best they can, by trapping, cutting poles and pickets, but not farming, as the land is poor. A new Mission house has been built and there she has a tremendous work among the women and children.

The members stood and joined in prayer for these two splendid girls and their work for God's Kingdom. They are our own Ontario girls.

The Birthday Box was popular for birthday pennies of May, June and July. Eighteen calls were reported made on members ill at home or hospital.

Mrs. E. Eggleton spoke briefly on the "Stewardship of Influence."

Devotional

In the absence of Mrs. Walter Warren, Vice-President for the Younger Groups, Mrs. Carlisle chaired the remainder of the meeting, asking Mrs. Jack McCaughen, Superintendent of the Mission Band to read the Lesson, taken from Matthew 10, in which we find Christ's admonition, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Accompanied by Mrs. Harold West, "The Lord's Prayer" was beautifully sung by Mrs. W. Wilkins. Several inspiring hymns also added much to the worship part of the programme.

Mrs. Clifford Lansing Gives Address

The theme, "Co-operation" was the subject chosen by the speaker, Mrs. Clifford Lansing. Her stirring message will long remain in the minds of her hearers. She spoke of co-operation as we find it in the home, or in the neighbourhood, as people worked together toward a common purpose. Co-operation with Nature, we see and find in a garden. There is no better place than a garden to practise grateful co-operation with God.

Back of the loaf is the snowy flour,
Back of the flour is the mill,
Back of the mill, is the wheat and shower
The sun and the Father's will.

If only we could get together more co-operatively, as one family of God, no matter of what race or religion, surely millions would not starve today while other millions have a surplus of food. Creatures of the field co-operate. Wolves go in packs, sheep in flocks, cattle in herds. How slow humans are to show co-operation. We display examples of competition, rather than co-operation with our modern devices of warfare and destruction.

What would our grandparents think if they could see our comfortable way of living and all our spectacular achievements, and yet, socially and spiritually, our programme is so unbalanced and our gadgets make us no happier.

"Man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things he possesseth," so spoke Jesus to the generation of His day, and today this warning is as

Appeal For Aid For Local Cubs

This week-end Bird's Food Market will be giving the Boy Scouts one per cent of all cash sales, so we are asking all the people who can to shop at Bird's.

The Boy Scout group have grown so that we are finding it hard to finance, as we have lost the sale of waste paper.

This year we have three boys who are going to Jamborees — two boys to England and one to the U.S.A. Between our Group Committee and Troop they have paid out $325.00 to help these boys on their trip. The two boys going to England will have the chance to visit Stirling in Scotland.

Our Local Committee consists of X. P. Mayhew, Chairman; Bruce Bell, Secretary-Treasurer, and David Duffin, Harold Wells, Bill Heath and Stuart McArton, who have done a wonderful job in keeping the group going.

The group can only canvas once a year and when something like this comes up they have to look around for more money. So this is why Mr. Bird is doing this for the Boy Scouts to help our committee to keep up their good work.

New Temple At Deseronto

Among the building permits issued last week was one for the erection of a Masonic Temple on Main street east, Deseronto.

This structure is to be of cement block construction and one story in height and is the realization of a long planned dream of Craig Lodge.

Excavation for the foundation has already begun on the lot next to the Legion house and it is planned to have the building completed and ready for occupancy by fall.

HORNS

Some of the horns on new cars seem to have picked up part of the added power of present day models. Another reminder that the horn is a warning device and not a prod appears to be in order.

To Take Wheat Vote

Hon. W. A. Goodfellow has authorized a vote of the wheat growers of Ontario, probably toward the end of August, on a question of selling their crop through negotiating board, or if necessary to have a marketing board.

Four members of the provincial wheat growers' executive recently met the Minister of Agriculture and Frank Perkins, chairman of the Farm Products Marketing Board, and Deputy Minister C. D. Graham. R. R. Stewart, of Peterborough, attended as an Ontario director. Basis of the vote will be the petition of 1955.

The association has been assured of the co-operation of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. Their economist, Cecil Belyea, attended the conference.

The Rolling Road

I sometimes wonder just where Northern Ontario is situated, starts and ends, for I have been asked how I enjoyed my trip to Northern Ontario. I was during the past week in Renfrew for a few days.

Considering the fact that, if you started from Belleville to go to the Northern tip of Ontario, the journey would take you two days and one night, I am inclined to say that we are in Northern Ontario before we have travelled two hundred miles or more North of Stirling And, when you do go North, you really know you are there, especially in winter.

To get North, you would travel through some delightful country. I am recommending No. 41 Highway to all my friends. Taking No. 7 along to Kaladar you turn north, a winding road as every road ought to be, a fifteen mile long lake to delight the eye at every turn, and bush land, green pastures and rough rugged wilds enough to form a artist's paradise. Try it.

Have It And Eat It

The Russians are wonderful people, they eat their cherries in winter and oysters in summer. A news item tells us that they claimed credeit several years ago for not having any Concentration Camps; they now claim that they have closed down two thirds of these non-existent concentration camps. No doubt they soon will abolish the other third — then no doubt again, they will abolish two thirds of those that, by an oversight, still remain; then the remaining third and so on. So, what the Russians gain on the swings, they also gain on the roundabouts: This is socialism, they eat their cake, have it, eat it again and then sell it to some half-wit.

Sayings of the Week

"Nobody knows the trouble I've had. And, believs me, nobody cares." Frank —Sinatra.

"The fact is that I dance with women as a matter of good manners." —Aly Khan.

"It is estimated that one person in three has his tonsils removed every year." —A woman doctor

"Mr. W . . . is standing for a seat in parliament and is well in the running." —One of our rulers.

In The Kitchen

My interest in the kitchen is of recent date so that I am not exactly an expert on the subject, however, I've a few suggestions to offer. But first, why is it that so few people ever dream of food, foodless dreams are, I believe, common. I don't think they should be.

I am assured by the experts that it is all tied in with the five senses. Touch is, of course, indispensable. Taste and smell too. But what about sight? It's a point, without sight how on earth could one cook at all. That's what you think. Yet I am assured that the sightless are very good cooks.

As a mere matter of fact, the experts have done me no good at all. Indeed, had it not been that I consulted the expert, my day would have been bright. I have discovered that it is not sight, it is not even smell — it is hearing that is all important.

Had I been listening, my rice bowl would not have boiled over.

Know Your Canada

(Prepared by the Research Staff of Encyclopedia Canadiana)

CANADA TAKES LEADING ROLE IN PROTECTING CONSUMER

Canada has led the way in enforcing commodity standards and identification and as a result the Canadian shopper can buy foods and drugs with considerable confidence that the purchases are what they appear to be and as good as they ought to be.

In its lengthy article on commodity standards, the new Encyclopedia Canadiana states that Canada was the first nation in the world to enact legislation providing for grading and grade-labelling of canned goods and also was well to the fore in the grading of other foods for quality. In 1874 Canada became the first country in North America to pass a national law prohibiting the adulteration of food and drugs.

A year after the law was passed, 51.5 per cent of the samples analyzed were adulterated. Today, adulteration is found in less than two per cent of the more than 20,000 samples analyzed each year.

Among the earliest grading laws were those enacted in Nova Scotia from 1761 to 1790 which provided for the grading of pickled beef and pork, pickled fish, and butter. Compulsory labelling was introduced in the butter statute by requiring the quality grade of the butter — "prime," "second" or "third" — to be branded on each barrel or tub. Similar standards were established for bread, which was to be "sound, good and well made" and was to contain certain specified ingredients.

Before Confederation, all provinces had some laws governing the quality, grading, packing and inspection of foods. The new Dominion passed a number of such regulations, which were incorporated in the 1874 legislation.

The Food and Drugs Act of 1920, basis of present regulations, made misbranding as well as adulterating an offence. The act covers cosmetics and household chemicals, as well as food and drugs. It has led to the establishment of minimum standards of composition and quality for most foods and for a wide variety of drugs and vitamin products.

Canadian standard grades now have been developed for a wide variety of foods including: grains, dairy products, fish and shellfish, eggs and poultry, meats and meat products, fresh fruits and vegetables, honey, mapleproducts and canned goods. Certain provinces also have set up grades for some products.

The consumer has benefited from the general improvement in quality of foods. Grading enables one to judge with reasonable accuracy what one is getting for one's money. The trade labelling of canned goods is especially helpful to the housewife, providing her with a reliable guide to the quality of the unseen contents of the can.

Cotten -- Spry Nuptials At Bonarlaw

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday, June 1st at 2.00 p.m. on the lawn of the bride's residence, Bonarlaw, when Ruby Jean Spry, of Bonarlaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Spry, was united in marriage by Rev. H. E. Beare to Ralph Douglas Cotten, of Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cotten.

Miss Betty McConnell, Mount Pleasant, rendered the wedding music and accompanied Misses Betty and Joan Smith, cousins of the bride, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I'll Walk Beside You."

The bride looked lovely in her floor length bridal gown of white chantilly lace and taffeta, featuring a fitted bodice of lace, with pointed sleeves of matching lace. She wore a matching shoulder-length veil of lace and tulle illusion caught up with a calote headdress and carried a bouquet of red roses encircled with white 'mums.

Mrs. Don Reid, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, in a mauve floor-length gown, with matching accessories. Her flowers were of yellow roses, 'mums and bronze nosegay.

The best man was Mr. Craig Watson.

At the reception the bride's mother received wearing a navy crepe dress with pink and white accessories and corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, dressed in a rose crepe and lace dress with white accessories and corsage of red roses.

Following the reception the young couple left for the United States and around Lake Ontario, the bride travelling in a powder blue princess style dress with white accessories and a 'mum and rose corsage.

Guests were present from Toronto, Whitby, Stirling, Marmora, Eldorado, Carleton Place and Arnprior.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotten will reside at Harold.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

The increasing co-operation between the Bible Society and the churches was stressed at the 153rd Annual Meeting of the British and Foreign Bible Society in London, England, at which this country was represented by the General Secretary for Canada, the Rev. Kenneth G. McMillan, and the District Secretary for New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, the Rev. E. M. B. Wheelock.

The Society has now issued the Scriptures in 844 of the 1,109 languages in which at least one book of the Bible has been published. It was reported that 8 translations had been added in 1956, while the complete Bible was printed for the first for the first time in 5 tongues, and the whole New Testament appeared in an additional 5 languages.

The purpose of the British and Foreign Bible Society was stated by Rev. Dr. N. J. Cockburn, General Secretary, in these words: "It is the faith of the Bible Society that by its world-wide distribution of the Scriptures placed judiciously, strategically and imaginatively in all places for all men, that it is doing a supremely important work, whereby under the Spirit of God, men of all nations can begin to be new men of God."

much needed as it then was. In the wheel of life, Christ is needed for the hub or centre, but every spoke of humanity is also needed to carry the load of today's problems so many and complicated. God has His plan, may we pray sincerely, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done. May we so live that if everyone lived as we do the world would be a better one.

Mrs. Lansing closed her address with a beautiful poem, "My Neighbour's Roses."

Mrs. W. Fox graciously thanked Mrs. Lansing on behalf of all present for her splendid address.

Mission Band Programme

The Mission Band members who had now arrived, were thrilled by a story of some Korean babies told by Mrs. W. Wilkins, the former Baby Band Superintendent. She explained to them that they had helped bring milk and food to some of these little orphan babies when they brought their money to Mission Band meetings.

Mrs. Roy Tucker, the present Baby Band Superintendent, gave a reading entitled, "What's Your Hurry, Mother?" This was to remind mothers that after all, keeping a house so spic and span was not so important as taking time out for dad and the children, even if the dinner dishes had to wait a while.

Mrs. J. McCaughen and her Mission Band then took over and the children conducted a regular Band meeting with song and prayer and all repeated the Mission Band Purpose: "I will love my Heavenly Father, and follow Jesus too, for He has shown me clearly what God wants me to do. I will help God's other children, both here and o'er the sea, Jesus to konw and God to love that World Friends we may be."

A highlight of the afternoon was the presentation by Mrs. Russell Stapley of a life certificate to her granddaughter, little Anne Morton, making her a life member of the Golden Key Mission Band. The Band has two life members, and any child may be made such by contribution of the life member fee of $5.00.

After a brief closing word by the President, Mrs. G. Carlisle, and the Mizpah Benediction, the adults enjoyed a cup of tea and no less did the children their lunch of sandwiches, cookies and chocolate milk. This social hour brought to a close a very happy occasion.

Mrs. E. Chisholm expressed appreciation to all those responsible for such a splendid meeting and happy social fellowship.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

YOU CAN BE RICH

Within the past two weeks I have met four very rich persons — rich in the joy they get from life, and also in hard cold cash. All began life in very ordinary circumstances. So I was sure there must be a common reason for what they have made of themeselves. There is.

Each one is generous, almost to a fault. Each is big in heart, and unafraid. Each has a bubbling sense of fun, tempered with gentleness. Each has been fooled more than once by a sob-story, and has risked big sums of money in a manner we more cautious souls would look on as sheer gullibility.

I mentioned this to one of these men, and he said, with a grin, "If I'd been really smart or clever or cautious I would never have gotten into the business which made most of my money for me!" He also told me that some of the best investments he ever made just to help some lad who seemed to have a good idea and the ambition to make it work.

I compared these men with some others who have been only moderately successful. I am convinced that they, too, could have been rich if they had been less small in spirit, more ready to give the other fellow a break, more trusting, more generous.

In fact — though this may be heresy — I grow more convinced each day that if a fellow is truly good at heart and fond of his fellow man and free of hatreds and small suspicions, he will find it difficult not to make pretty big money. Or failing that, an army of friends that will bring him satisfactions of equal worth.

At any rate, there is a challenge for you. Cast out envy and malice and pettiness and cultivate an open heart, a sense of gentleness, a willingness to give more than you receive. If these men are right, you will begin to feel a glow of genuine happiness and self-confidence, and many a tide will turn your way. In your home life and in the world of business, frictions will gradually disappear and the stream of your life will flow much more freely. Men in this frame of mind seem to draw success towards them as a magnet draws steel filing. Isn't it worth a try? What can you possibly lose?

June Meeting Springbrook W.A.

The members of Springbrook United Church Woman's Association, held their monthly meeting in the basement of the Church on Thursday afternoon, June 6th, with Mrs. Percy Mumby and Mrs. Murney Mason acting as hostesses.

After the President extended words of welcome to all the meeting opened in the usual manner using the theme song, theme prayer and W.A. prayer.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Don Bateman, the theme being, "Integrity." Hymn 679 was sung, after which the Scripture Lesson taken from Job 2: 1-10, was read by Mrs. Gordon Bateman. Psalm 25 was read in unison. The theme thoughts were read by Mrs. Gerald Broadworth. Hymn 411 was sung, after which the devotional period closed with the Lord's Prayer.

The roll call, "Quotation from the Observer," was answered by 34 members. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Gordon Webb. Mrs. Reg. McKeown reported for the May visiting committee. Mrs. Carman Sine and Mrs. Susie Thompson were selected to act on this committee for June. Mrs. Fred McKeown, sick committee convener, reported on fruit, flowers and cards sent out to sick and shut-ins. The correspondence was read and dealt with, consisting of "thank you" letters and a literature folder on Missions. Mrs. Carman Sine gave further details on the literature rack that is under discussion. This will be dealt with at a later date.

Two minutes' silence was observed for the late Mrs. Wesley Heath, who has passed away since the May meeting.

Highlights of the business for the afternoon were as follows: Invitation for a guest speaker for the July meeting, to which Rylstone and Stanwood W. A.'s and Bethel Hall ladies have been invited; catering to a wedding with a committee named for the same, Mesdames Delbert Fleming, Chris Bateman, Kenneth Thompson, Reg McKeown, Carman Sine and Murney Mason.

The various canvassers were appointed to inquire as to the subscriptions for the Observer. Plans were discussed and suggestions offered for a pot luck supper and ball game in June. Mrs. Gordon Bailey, Mrs. Gordon Bateman, Mrs. Don Bateman and, Mrs. Ralph Thompson were named as a committee to plan for the evening. The Adult Bible Class will be in charge of the refreshment booth while the C.G.I.T. will supervise a fish pond for the children.

Programme

The topic on "Witnessing," was given by Mrs. Sanford Meikiejohn. Readings were given by Mrs. Harry Haslett and Mrs. Bert McCoy. The reports of the W.A. Convention held recently in Grace United Church, Trenton, were given by Mrs. Ralph Thompson for the moring session and Mrs. Fred McKeown for the afternoon session.

A duet by Mrs. Gordon Bailey and Mrs. Gordon Bateman, with Mrs. Carman Sine accompanying was enjoyed. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Lunch was served by the hostesses and their assistants. The July meeting will be held in the Church with Mrs. Gordon Bateman and Mrs. Gerald Broadworth as hostesses.

Hostess To River Valley W.M.A.

Mrs. Ross Holland was hostess to the River Valley Woman's Missionary Auxiliary with 12 members, 5 children and 2 visitors in attendance.

The President, Mrs. Gerald Brooks, opened the meeting with a poem, "Be Strong." The hymn, "Take Time To Be Holy," was sung, followed by prayer.

The minutes were read and the Secretaries reported. Two books were reported read and there were 10 home calls and three hospital calls made. It was decided to send a card to the Honorary President, Mrs. A. Packman, who is visiting her homeland, England. The offering was received and dedicated.

Mrs. Roy Irven had charge of the programme and opened with the hymn, "Lord While For All Mankind We Pray." The theme, "Home Missions Trans Canada," proved very interesting. Mission work is carried on by the W.M.A. and operates under six departments.

Boarding Schools and School Homes and Community Missions East were dealt with by Mrs. Jack Bush. Indian Missions and Community Missions West, were dealt with by Mrs. Gerald Brooks. Medical and Oriental, Chinese and Japanese were dealt with by Mrs. Roy Bush.

The study book chapter, "The Road Is Rough," was taken by Mrs. Stanley Irvin. She told about the President of the Republic of Philipines, Ramon Magsaysay, how he was killed in a plane crash while flying home and how his people loved him.

Mrs. Philip Conley favoured with a piano solo. A reading was given by Mrs. Ross Bush, "Be Not Afraid," followed by another reading, "His Dominion," by Mrs. Roy Irven. The hymn, "From Ocean Unto Ocean," was sung and the benediction was given by Mrs. C. Lansing.

A social half hour was enjoyed by all with Mrs. Alex Bush and Mrs. Ernest Carr, as lunch conveners, assisted by the hostess.

What Others Say !

MEN AND MACHINES

(London Free Press)

After the installation of a three million dollar electronic brain, one man and a stack of punch cards will be able to operate the entire steel-rolling operation of Algoma Steel Corporation at Sault Ste. Marie. This is a portent of things to come in many forms of business, the substitution of the mechanical "brain" for the human brain — automation.

The effects of this form the most insistent problem in business and in the social future of man — how man shall control and wisely employ the machine he has built.

GET ITEMS IN EARLY

It is unfortunate that all items submitted to a newspaper cannot always be published in the issue intended. A last minute rush of advertisements, mechanical difficulties, or an overflow of rush orders are only a few of the many problems which often have to be contended with. The paper is not all set on the day of publication, and items which are in early and set have a better chance of being published. —The Beaverton Express.

RETIREMENT AGE CAN'T BE FIXED

(The Rural Scene)

"What other work can I turn to?" answered Mr. St. Laurent when asked if he intended to retire after the election is over.

"I have been away from my law practice too long to go back to it now, and I have no other trade or profession. If I retire from active politics I retire from active life, and will be numbered among the unemployed, perhaps among the unemployable. I really don't feel old enough for that."

History may record this impromptu statement as Mr. St. Laurent's most memorable remark, or as the most striking statement of the year.

It draws attention to the tragic consequences of a practice that has become almost universal today — the practice of imposing retirement on our citizens when they reach a certain age without regard for their fitness to continue to give effective services.

Many people, on reaching the retirement age, feel just as Mr. St. Laurent does, and justifiably so.

It is quite a shock to an alert and active man to be told that his services are no longer required at the work he is best qualified to do, just because the calendar says he has reached a certain age; and the record shows that enforced retirement, when a man is still fit, shortens the life expectancy of the person affected, by years.

Retirement age can't be fixed by law or by any rigid rule. It is a personal matter between each man and his employer. The employer knows the value of the services, and the man knows whether or not he can maintain the pace.

Men live longer today than they used to; but there can be little object in prolonging one's life if it means only a prolonged period of sitting around with nothing to do and nothing for doing it.

THE HALF-WIT FARMER

Ireland's Saturday Night tells a story about a farmer that will appeal to many Canadian farmers.

A farmer on the shores of Lough Neagh had two hired men and a maid, and the reputation of paying very low wages. A government inspector called, saying: "I hear you're paying your farm servants a poor wage."

"Oh, am I?" replied the farmer indignantly. "Well, there is Willie; ask him his wages ('7 pounds a week, sir'); and there's Sammy, ask him his wages ('7 pounds a week, sir'); and there is Kate, ask her her wages, ('3 pounds 10 and food sir')."

"Any more?" asked the inspector.

"Well, no — only the half-wit, and he gets three bob a week, a bit of tobacco and his food."

"Could I speak to him," said the inspector.

"Well, you're speaking to him now," said the farmer.

The farmer's three bob a week is equivalent to 42 cents a week. Even the hired girl's pay is ten dollars.

THE FOOD BASKET

RHUBARB AND STRAWBERRIES — GOOD FLAVOUR MATES

Have you ever tried combining rhubarb and strawberries? Their flavours blend beautifully, the sweet fragrance of the strawberries tending to soften the tangy tartness of the rhubarb. The combination is espeially good in pie, as judges in Canada's Kitchen agreed during taste-tests of this recipe:

Rhubarb and Strawberry Pie

3 cups rhubarb, cut in ½" pieces
1 cup strawberries
1¼ to 1½ cups sugar
1 tablespoon butter
Pastry for double crust 9 inch pie.

Mix flour and sugar together, add fruit and stir. Let stand for 15 minutes. Turn into unbaked pie shell and dot with butter. Cover with pastry and bake in very hot oven. (425 deg. F.) for 50 to 60 minutes.

If you have a home freezer or locker, it would be a good idea to freeze some of the fruits (dry sugar pack) for making into pies or you might freeze a few of the pies, unbaked, for later on when strawberries and rhubarb are no longer available. Be sure to add an extra tablespoon of flour to each pie that is to be frozen, and don't cut slits in the top of the pie until just before it is to be baked. (Cooking time for frozen unbaked fruit pies is 75 to 85 minutes in hot oven, 425 degs. F.)

For another tempting rhubarb and strawberry combination, try the recipe for Strawberry and Rhubarb Jam in the Consumer Section bulletin, "Jams, Jellies and Pickles." If you do not have a copy of this publication, you may obtain one free of charge by writing to: Information Service, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Ontario.

In the past decade the two most important economic developments for Canada have been the discovery that the country has vast oil and gas and uranium resources.

WEED OF THE WEEK

EARLY JUNE BEST FOR MILKWEED CONTROL

It's in late August and September that the Milkweed pods open and release their seeds, each of which is equipped with a tuft of silky down to enable it to float on the fall breezes and start a new plant in a new location. In order to prevent that from happening next fall, the time to do somethig about it is now, says the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

While Milkweed has been listed as resistant to 2,4-D, many road superintendents have obtained good results; that is, have prevented pods and seed from forming, by spraying with a low volatile ester of 2,4-D, or with a brush killer combination of 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T. On the other hand, very poor results have been obtained using the same herbicides at the same rates of application. The difference has always been that in the successful treatments the spraying was done early in June. In the unsuccessful cases, spraying was done sometime in July. Another secret of success in keeping roadsides clean is annual spraying over a period of several years.

The best known chemical control for Milkweed is the 2,4-D — 2,4,5-T (brush killer) mixture at the rate of 16 oz. of acid per acre, sprayed in late spring. This treatment may need to be repeated for two or three years. In dough pastures this should eliminate most of the troublesome pasture weeds. It should not, of course be used on pastures containing a high percentage of the better clovers.

Unfortunately, Milkweed also invades crop land. Spraying is not the answer here because grass is the only crop capable of surviving the amount of herbicide necessary to control Milkweed. In grain crops which may be infected with Milkweed, the use of an early maturing variety, one that can be harvested early in August, is recommended. In this way the Milkweed is cut before it can mature seed. If this is followed with after harvest cultivation to kill off the roots, the Milkweed problem is well on the way to being overcome.

In hay meadows and seeded pastures the mower is the most useful tool in controlling Milkweed and many other weeds.

ONT. HOG PRODUCERS ASSOC. EMERGENCY MEETING

A number of major policy decisions are expected to be made at an emergency meeting of some 150 top county and provincial executives and officers of the Ontario Hog Producers Association called for June 18th in Toronto, Charles McInnis, president of the Association announced.

"The emergency meeting," Mr. McInnis stated, "will be open to the press. The meeting will be asked to examine our new regulations under the amended Ontario Farm Products Marketing Act; it will be asked to consider the establishment of additional new assembly yards across Ontario; and, most important of all, the meeting will discuss ways and means of developing a master transportation and assembly plan to assure the sale of hogs on the open market."

"This master transportation and assembly plan backed by our regulations," Mr. McInnis said, "will enable hog producers to control fully the distribution of their product with a minimum of costs until sold."

"This single feature of our industry where farmers' money going to transporters is used to depress hog prices, is one of the most humiliating and unjust situations in agriculture today," Mr. McInnis asserted.

Entered Into Rest

MRS. ROSE ALICE CARR

The last of her family, Mrs. Rose Alice Carr, R.R. 4, Stirling, passed away at the home of her son, Ernest, on Tuesday, June 4th after being ill for three weeks, in her 84th year.

Left to mourn her passing are her son, Ernest, and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Carr was the widow of Frank Roy Carr, who died in 1950, and the daughter of the late John Heasman and Elizabeth Simmons.

Born in England, she later moved to Anson and Belleville before taking up residence near Stirling 36 years ago.

She was a member of St. John's Anglican Church, St. John's Guild and River Valley Women's Institute.

The funeral was held on Friday afternoon, June 7th at the Duffin Funeral Home, Stirling.

Rev. H. C. Secker, rector of St. John's Anglican Church, conducted the service.

The pallbearers were Ralph Utman, Elburn Bradshaw, Jack Bush, Philip Conley, James Park and James McDonnell.

Interment was made in Stirling Cemetery beside her husband, who predeceased her a few years ago.

St. Andrew's W.M.S.

The June meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. E. Cain with Mrs. P. Craighead, Mrs. Eva McGee and Mrs. Jas. Johnston as assistants.. The President, Mrs. E. Foster, welcomed each member and visitor. She expressed deep appreciation to each person who had in any way contributed to the success of the Summer Rally, after which she read a poem, "The Beauty of Spring."

The Scripture Lesson was read by Mrs. Don Fargey. God so loved us that He made everything so beautiful. Should we not be thankful for kindness and in return do our best for Him?

The prayer from the Glad Tidings was taken by Mrs. W. L. Anderson. If we are loyal to the best within ourselves we will become devoted W.M.S. workers.

The roll call followed in charge of Mrs. E. Fox with "beauty" the keyword. Once again the response was gratifying. Miss Gena Spry gave an account of the money taken in at the Rally. It was decided to give the Ladies' Aid their share of the proceeds. The Treasurer's report was given by Mrs. E. Cain. It was decided to send a share of this in to Miss Nesbitt for the first half of the year.

Programme

The second part of the meeting was in charge of Mrs. Jas. Johnston, who read a short poem. A reading, "It isn't the Church, it's you," was read by Mrs. Harold McGee. Let us be slow to criticize but enter into the church work wholeheartedly. A reading, "The Master is coming," was read by Miss Gena Spry. The knowledge that Our Master is at our right hand gives us great comfort.

The topic, "The Hunger For Beauty," was read by Mrs. A. O. Dalrymple. Just imagine what kind of a world this would be if there was no beauty of any sort. The Creator apparently had this in mind for He not only planted in the mind and heart of people a deep seated love for beauty, but he scattered all over the earth beauty in an endless number of forms. The more of beauty that is taken into the mind and heart of peaple the more of wholesomeness of character is formed. Beauty is the vitamin of life that makes all experience happiness. This paper had been prepared by Mrs. Ken Ray.

The singing of hymn and the benediction brought the meeting to a close.

Honoured By Society

At this time Mrs. L. Rodgers was given the seat of honour. A very fine address of farewell was read by Miss Gena Spry and the presentation of a set of bedroom lights was made by Mrs. H. Rollins on behalf of all the organizations in the Church. Faithfulness had been her watchword.

A delightful afternoon tea followed, served by the committee in charge. An expression of thanks on behalf of the Society to Mrs. Cain and her helpers was made by Mrs. Don Fargey.

A thought-provoking reading was read by Mrs. L. Rodgers entitled, "Cheerful Living."

It Matters Not

Two boys were born in the self-same town,
On the very self-same day;
One father carried the Tory flag,
The other — Whig standard flew

These babies soon grew up to men,
As other children do,
And one of them hoisted the Tory flag
The other — Whip standard flew.

The years sped by and these two men
Lay dead on the self-same day,
One wonders now why they worried so
Over which party was kept in tow.

Then all of the difference vanished quite,
For in Heaven none would know
Which of them carried the Tory flag
And which the Whip standard flew.

Slow Down And Live

High speed and tired drivers are blamed for most summer highway accidents by the Canadian Highway Safety Conference in a reminder to Canadian motorists.

Learning to slow down and take it easy is the beginning of wisdom at the wheel, says the Conference which suggests the following code for safe driving:

1. Slow down at the first glimpse of children playing in the street.
2. Slow down at intersections, traffic circles, and railway and cattle crossings.
3. Slow down before entering city and town limits and any other crowded area.
4. Slow down for coffee breaks every 100 miles.
5. Slow down after dark and under bad weather or road conditions.
6. Slow down to give the other fellow a chance, even if he is only a pedestrian.
7. Slow down for greater comfort and less strain. You'll enjoy your trip more, and will survive it!

What's In A Name?

We wonder how long people will continue to confuse the terms "health" and "sickness." A labour leader states that we need health insurance in this country. He really means sickness insurance. The Department of Health is said by a minister to spend sixty or seventy million dollars annually on health. Most of these millions are not spent on health but on sickness, and to be logical, a minister might well be called a minister of sickness rather than a minister of health.

To achieve health is comparatively cheap. To care for illness, much of which might be prevented is very expensive. Because of widespread illness and premature death, we pay in terms not only of hospital beds and unnecessary funerals, but also in the poverty which results, and in the social unrest which in many countries spells communism.

But most people are so occupied with their own personal affairs that they will not take the time to think these problems out. During the last ten years Canada has added to her hospital bed capacity no less than 70,000 new hospital beds. Few people even know it, and very few will take the trouble to wonder why we need to add in this brief period more beds than we had altogether thirty years ago, although in the same period our population has not increased proportionately.

Most of us still know little about the possibilities of preventing disease and prolonging life. Too frequently the individual takes no interest in prevention until someone in his immediate family dies of some disease which previously he only read about casually in the newspaper. Then he suddenly makes up his mind to devote some of his time and his money to the prevention of that particular disease — to the exclusion of all others. But what's the use? It is too large a subject for one brief editorial. Some day, someone will write a book about it in the hope that someone will read it.

The Canadian primary textile industry comprises the establishments engaged in manufacturing or preparing textile fibres — cotton, wool, silk, and the various synthetics — and in spinning, weaving, felting, knitting, dyeing and finishing these fibres and products made from them.

Tax Rate 68 Mills On Commercial And 63 Mills On Residential Property

Council Met On Monday In Special Session — Discuss Puchase of New Pumper

In special session on Monday night the Village Council struck the current year's tax rate at 68 mills on commercial property and 63 mills on residential property. The latter is made possible through the provincial government's unconditional grant to the municipality on a per capita basis.

Reeve J. V. Holt presided and Councillors C. A. Wells, Ken Ray, W. L. Pollock and Jas. Wright were in attendance.

The total assessment for the Village is $955,787, an increase of $14,898.15 over last year, and the total taxes levied will be $64,993.52, less the provincial grant. The residential assessment is $680,427 and the commercial assessment $275,360.

This year there is an increase of 6 mills in the county rate, 2.4 in the High School Area and 10 mills in the public school. In a new departure this year the annual payments of principal and interest on debentures in both the High School Area and Public School, have been included in the levy in each case. This accounts for part of the increase in the school rate and the decrease of 7.7 mills in the debenture levy.

The general rate went up .6 mills and Board of Health .5 mills, but street lighting was lowered 1.4 mills. Hydrant rentals and Library were left the same to make the rate 68 mills. This will be the rate for commercial property, but the provincial government's unconditional grant to be applied on residential property will lower the latter rate to 63 mills, which is the same as last year.

The necessary tax bylaw, No. 583, was given its several readings and passed with Councillor C. A. Wells in the chair.

A comparative list of last year's rate with this year's follows:

	1956	1957
County	15.7	16.3
High School Area	10.6	13.0
Public School	6.3	16.3
Library	1.0	1.0
Town Rate	15.5	16.1
Hydrant Rentals	1.5	1.5
Board of Health	0.5	1.0
Debentures	8.5	.8
Street Lighting	3.4	2.0
Total Taxes	63.0	68.0
Less gov't. unconditional grant on residential property		5.0
		63.0

Thos. Kerr, Building Inspector, interviewed Council with respect to a local resident refusing to purchase a building permit. Council authorized the inspector to take the necessary action to collect the fee for a permit.

Purchase Mower For Cemetery

Councillor K. Ray reported the mower in use at the cemetery in need of replacement and on motion of Councillors Wright and Pollock the committee was authorized to purchase a new machine.

The question of the purchase of a new fire pumper for the Village was also introduced by Councillor Ray. The present equipment is a bit antiquated and insurance rates in the Village are somewhat higher than neighbouring municipalities because it is not of modern design. Prices were submitted on pumpers with all modern attachments.

Members of Council were unanimous that it was time to bring the local fire equipment up to modern standards and will proceed towards making the necessary arrangements for the purchase of new equipment.

Councillor Wells gave notice of motion that he would introduce the necessary bylaw at the next regular meeting of Council and Clerk Mallory will then make application to the Municipal Board for permission to issue debentures for the purchase of the new equipment.

The next meeting of Council will be held on Tuesday, July 2nd at 7.30 p.m.

Mrs. Harry Mayo then read an address from Salem W.A. and Mrs. Lorne Hagerman made the presentation of a pin and earring set.

Mrs. Dafoe very feelingly thanked everyone for their many kindnesses. Mr. Sharp, Mrs. Dafoe's brother, also spoke on her behalf. "For She's A Jolly Good Fellow," was sung.

Rev. Teskey then extended congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Mowat Sine who were celebrating their 38th wedding anniversary that day. Mr. Sine spoke briefly.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Ottawa, Canada's capital, is one of the showplaces of the world and the "Mounties" in their brilliant red uniforms always prove a first-rate attraction at the Parliament Buildings.

World Friendship Rally of C.G.I.T. Held At Picton

A Rally of affiliated C.G.I.T. groups of Belleville Presbyterial of the United Church of Canada was held in Picton United Church.

A lively sing-song, led by Jean Scott, Lenore Wilkes and Margaret Hillis, of Belleville, got everyone in the right mood and the Rally was off to a good start. The C.G.I.T. from Bath led in a Negro spiritual. The group from Halloway conducted a round of song and the girls from Springbrook led in an action song.

Mrs. Pierce Jones, of Picton, secretary for Affiliated C.G.I.T. groups of Belleville Presbyterial, introduced the mistress of ceremonies, Miss Carol Pearsoll, of Wellington. Carol received her graduation diploma from C.G.I.T. at the Wellington Mother and Daughter banquet and plans to carry on this work.

The C.G.I.T. Purpose was repeated in unison, followed by a most inspirational worship service conducted by the girls of Tabernacle C.G.I.T., Belleville.

Mrs. Jones gave a preparatory talk on the film, "On This Rock," which shows the part the United Church plays in the frontiers of our land. The film was taken at Knob Lake. The questions following the showing of the film were: (1) Why can't we get along without the church? (2) What made the hero of the story finally decide to bring his wife and family finally to Knob Lake? (3) How does the work shown on the film apply to C.G.I.T.?

The girls showed a lively interest in the film and the questionnaire. The morning session was brought to a close by all singing, "We've a Story To Tell the Nations."

Luncheon Hour

A delectable luncheon was served in the dining hall by the Picton C.G.I.T. hostess group, the ladies of Group Four W.A. and ladies of the Afternoon and Evening Auxiliaries providing the meal.

During the noon hour greetings were extended by Mrs. E. Tucker on behalf of the W.M.S. Auxiliaries of Picton United Church. Mrs. Clarence Holmes, 1st Vice-President of Belleville Presbyterial, brought greetings and spoke briefly to the girls. "Always do the hard things first and the easy task will seem even more so," was her advice.

Afternoon Session

The Leader's Workshop, conducted while Wellington C.G.I.T. led the girls in a recreation period, was most profitable. Several questions were discussed and solutions offered. A gracious invitation from Wellington W.M.S. for the 1958 World Friendship Rally was gladly accepted.

The singing of the C.G.I.T. hymn opened the afternoon session. Mrs. D. Baxter, candidate secretary of Belleville Presbyterial, spoke inspiringly to the girls, inviting them to consider giving their lives to the service of the Church.

One highlight of the afternoon was a "Fashion Show" sponsored by Cherry Valley C.G.I.T., with Miss Linda Brooks as commentator. The theme was, "What the well-dressed girl will wear at camp." There were modelled: the smart dress to travel in, the shorts and blouse to wear during activities, the bathing cap for swimming (a white cap for swimmers and a red cap for non-swimmers), smart uniforms for Sundays and special occasions. Several girls from the various groups took part in this fashion show and everyone thoroughly enjoyed it.

Mrs. Jones presented the literature for C.G.I.T. and during the ten minute period for recess, leaders and girls bought some of the latest books and helps. They also took advantage of this time to visit the exceptionally fine handicraft display in charge of Milford C.G.I.T. All groups had placed items in the display which made it very showy.

Mrs. H. E. Beare of Springbrook, presented the courtesy committee report and the rally closed with "Taps."

It had been a wonderful day with over 120 girls in attendance. Everyone benefitted from the excellent fellowship and look forward to meeting in Wellington in 1958.

Kingston -- Pembroke Railway Stops

The Kingston and Pembroke Railway Co. has closed down 86 years after its inception. The service was discontinued last week following the last scheduled train from Sharbot Lake.

The company, for half a century a subsidiary of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was chartered in 1871. Its first section spanning the 46.8 miles to Sharbot Lake was opened in June, 1875.

There were subsequent extentions to Snow Road and to Renfrew with spur lines serving the Martele iron mines and those at nearby Zanesville.

Planning 12-Room Addition Trenton High School

Formal application to the Ontario Department of Education for authorization to start planning a 12-room addition to the Trenton High School is being made by the Trenton Board of Education.

Now in its first year of operation the new Trenton High School, built for 490 students, already has an enrolment of over 520, and educational authorities at Trenton envision a secondary school enrolment in excess of 750 in the next few years. The additional 12 rooms, including shops, would bring the school's capacity close to 800 students, and would cost about $150,000 to construct.

A Traveller's Note Book

The Rolling Road

I imagine the new arrival in Canada if able to travel, must be impressed with some of the things we take for granted — the wayside table, for instance. It was a happy thought. The tourist taking his lunch with him may with comfort eat.

In the U.S.A. this sort of thing has been carried to its logical conclusion. I have from time to time, discovered real comfort. Any friend wanting to camp out, can, if he desires, enter a State Park, where for 50 cents a day he may have a platform on which to pitch his tent, a built up fire place, all the wood fuel he can use, piped water, flushed toilets and security. World's End, is such a pitch, and well worth a visit. There are many more, each marked on a map which may be had from a service station.

Thinking of these things — brings to mind what the automobile has done for us beneficially. It has annihilated space, so places unknown may be visited, made accessible the most lovely reaches of the country as well as increased the price of its land, alas, it's a pity that the car has become the greatest slayer and menace of our times.

Let's take care this summer and let the other fool drive on, there is plenty of room where he is going; experience suggests that the enjoyable speed is around forty-five miles an hour. Remember, the more horse power you have, the more horse sense you need. But whoever heard of a horse driving a motor car?

No Company In Hell

We have the word of a popular evangelist for it. Billy Graham got his message over at Madison Square recently and was widely reported. One wonders why.

It seems that Mr. Graham said: "Some people think that they will have company in Hell. They are mistaken. Hell will be a state of isolation. You will be alone." That sure would be Hell.

But Mr. Graham tells us also that he takes his message from the Bible. He will find no such suggestion in the Bible, as a mere matter of fact. And not only so, the idea is not original, indeed, it is one of the most hackneyed in the world of ideas. It held a strong place until George Bernard Shaw busted it wide open. In his passage of speech between Ann and Don Juan, he finds Ann in the other world. She does not know where she is and she is alone. Don Juan tells her she is in Hell. But Ann, a good church woman on earth, won't buy it. "How do you know you are not in Hell?" asks Don Juan. Ann replied: "Because I feel no pain." "Then," said Don Juan, "you are truly damned." It's worth a thought.

The New Testament has a number of figures of speech on the subject. It says — "Hell is a state of torment. It is a lake of fire. It is also a worm which dieth not. It is a bottomless pit." I love that idea, it's rich and suggestive.

However, I am not an authority on Hell. Unlike the American evangelist who seems to have been everywhere.

McGee -- Musclow Nuptials At Belleville

Christ Church, Belleville, was appropriately adorned on Saturday, June 1st at 2.30 p.m. with flowers and ferns for a pretty summertime wedding when Heather Marie Musclow, of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Musclow, became the bride of Rodger Eugene McGee, of Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGee. The Reverend Archdeacon J. B. Creeggan, rector of the church, officiated.

Mr. J. H. Herdman, church organist, presided at the console of the organ, and accompanied the choir of six boys who sang, "O Perfection" and "The Lord is my Shepherd."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. Charles Musclow, was lovely in her waltz-length bridal gown of white chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with fitted bodice and matching lace jacket having a Peter Pan collar trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. Her finger-tip veil was held by a matching half-pill box style headdress dotted with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Betty Graham, of Belleville, as matron of honor, wearing a waltz-length gown of pink crystalette over taffeta, with matching net stole and headdress. She carried a cascade of pink and blue 'mums.

Mr. Gerald McGee, of Stirling, cousin of the bridegroom, was groomsman, and Mr. Lorne Maxwell, also of Stirling, was usher.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the parish hall, where the bride's mother, attired in dusty rose lace over taffeta, with white accessories and corsage of yellow roses, received the guests, assisted by the bridegroom's mother, in powder blue linen, white accessories with a corsage of red roses.

The bride's table was prettily appointed with white linen damask, and centred by a three-tier wedding cake adorned with pink roses, and topped by a tiny vase of roses and lily-of-the-valley.

For the wedding trip around Lake Ontario, thence south to New Jersey, the bride chose a rose-colored dress with matching duster, white accessories, and corsage of white 'mums. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. McGee will reside at Harold R.R. 1.

Previous to her marriage the bride was the honored guest at three miscellaneous showers: one given by Mrs. Ray Clarke, one by Mrs. Don Shannick and Mrs. Al. Eros and one by Mrs. William McIlquhan. At the Ontario Cheese Producers, of which the bride is a member, the staff presented her with a silver meat platter.

ST. MARK'S W.A.

The June meeting of St. Mark's W.A., Bonarlaw, was held at the home of Mrs. Storms with a splendid attendance.

The president occupied the chair and opened the meeting with a hymn, followed by prayer, the litany and the Scripture reading for Ascension Day, which was taken by Mrs. Barlow from the 16th Chapter of St. Mark. The roll call was answered by a question and answer from the Church Catechism.

The Treasurer reported all outstanding bills paid and the result of the last pot luck dinner and quilting which were very gratifying. Final preparations were made for catering at the stock sale on the 17th of June.

Mrs. Fleming presented a report on the annual Diocesan meeting held in Kingston in the early part of May.

Mrs. Jack Fraser contributed a reading and Mrs. Wellman conducted a contest on the mothers mentioned in the Bible. The Rector closed the meeting with prayer.

The hostess served a delicious tea and the members enjoyed a social time together.

Mrs. Percy Jackman Honoured Prior To Her Departure

On Friday evening, June 14th, about seventy-five relatives, friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Heagle, of Wellman's, to honour Mrs. Percy Jackman at a farewell party before her departure to Peterborough where she will make her future home.

A short programme of music, songs and speeches was enjoyed. An address was read by Mrs. George Watson and a presentation of a broach, ear rings and money was made by Mrs. Carman Nix from the relatives, friends and neighbours.

Wellman's Women's Institute also made a presentation of a nylon purse with the address prepared and read by Miss Emma Rainie. Mrs. John Carlisle presented the gift.

Mrs. Jackman taken completely by surprise thanked each and everyone for the lovely gifts and extended an invitation to all to visit her in her new home.

Mrs. Jackman has sold her farm to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hadley, of Stirling.

A dainty lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee brought an enjoyable evening to a close with everyone wishing Bessie the very best.

Those who attended from outside the community included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Philp, Mrs. E. G. Bailey, Mrs. Elmer Post, Mrs. George Green, Mrs. E. Chisholm, Miss Delia Descent and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tucker, of Stirling, Mrs. Harold Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Will Drewry, of Harold.

Man Shoots Rattle Snake In Shed West of Hastings

Donald Dickson, 30, of Indian Road, Toronto, escaped without injury recently when he found a three-foot rattler in the tool shed at his father's cottage about nine miles west of Hastings.

Mr. Dickson said he was able to jump out the door of the shed before the rattler reached him. He borrowed a gun from neighbours and shot the snake, then crushed its head in.

Mr. Dickson said he heard a rattling sound as he was opening the door but never thought it was a snake until he saw the reptile crawling along the floor.

"Its tail was moving in sections," he said, "and the rattling noise seemed to fill the whole tool shed."

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

HAMBURGERS AND MARIGOLDS

The car was low and black and sleek. It had a dignified look, even when parked sideways on a gravel ridge beside the backwoodsy road. I saw the tall, handsome, gray-haired man step from it, kick off his shoes, and pull his pencil-striped blue trouser legs up to his knees. I brought my car to a stop and watched.

Gingerly at first, and then quickly, he waded into the soggy ditch and across it to a meadow where millions of marigolds thought they were safe. He gathered an armful in the same quick, gay way my young daughter Kathy would have gathered them, and even from the back I could tell his grin was a mile wide.

I slipped from my car and waited for him.

"Got a nice bunch," he said, wading the ditch, "want some?"

"Sure do," I said. "I thought about wading for them . . . but just didn't get to it."

"Sit down," he said. "I've some hamburgers in the car."

We sat in the sun, munching hamburgers he had bought in Lockport and drinking milk from cardboard cartons, and every once in a while he'd glance in triumph at his marigolds. His trouser legs were down again, and he looked neat as a pin.

"Ah," he said, "hamburgeres and marigolds! Can't beat a combination like that. They make the best hamburgers at a little stand in Lockport. There's a good place in Beausejour, too — a place where they grind their own meat, no filler at all. They call them Nips, but I've always known them as hamburgers."

"They make good chips, too," I said. "I like chips with lots of vinegar."

He tried to sound cheerful. "Me too," he said, "But I daren't eat too much fried stuff. If I have chips I shouldn't have hamburgers." "Then, as if sorry to have brought up such a sad affair, he pointed at the marigolds. "Look at those green stalks — just bursting! No flower with as much life and health as marigolds."

We never did get around to introducing ourselves, but being a snooper I took note of his license plate. I won't tell you his name, but if you heard it you'd know he could buy every hamburger stand from Winnipeg to Vancouver and still have money left over for a florist shop or two. I suppose folks who don't know him imagine that with his fortune he lives on filet mignon washed down with champagne. You and I are probably the only ones who know that he squanders it, instead, on hamburgers from a stand at Lockport — and sometimes, no doubt, he goes on a spree and has chips, too, washed down with homogenized milk, surrounded by the luxury of Manitoba meadows and armsful of marigolds. Terrible the life these rich big shots lead, isn't it?

Mr. Elmer Banting, recently elected President of the Lake Ontario Development Association attended as well as the General Manager, Mr. D. W. Kingdon.

Mr. Banting outlined the accomplishments of the Association during the past year and advised of the events which would take place during the coming year. Of particular interest, it was noted that the next six months would be devoted heavily towards industrial promotion.

Mr. Banting advised that attendance had been made at the New York Sportsmen's Show and the Cleveland Sportsmen's Show this year, with the purpose of improving the tourist industry in this region.

Mr. Banting presented official certificates to two new communities which had joined the Association, namely the Township of Hungerford and the Village of Deseronto.

Some assistance is to be given, if requested, to those in agriculture, and a discussion on this phase of the Development Association work took place at length.

Other guests attending at the meeting were Mr. A. Douglas Alkenbrack, Mayor of Napanee, and Mr. Clarence Milligan, newly elected member of Parliament for Prince Edward-Lennox.

It was agreed that meetings of Zone 3 be suspended for the periods July and August and resumed again in September.

In the fascinating city of Quebec the tourists can stroll along steep, narrow streets, and savour the charm of the 18th century, French-provincial town.

Arthur Meighen Celebrates 83rd Birthday

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen celebrated his 83rd birthday Sunday, still holding a lively interest in politics but with no wish to become involved in the controversial issues of present-day government.

Twice a Conservative prime minister, in 1920 and 1921 and again in 1926, and one of Canada's most controversial figures during his 23 years in Parliament, he declines to comment on the current situation.

Wax Takes Starch Out of Swimmers

Wax in a swimmer's ears — particularly in one ear — may lead to serious or even dangerous consequences, according to a report received by the Health League of Canada from the American Medical Association.

Dr. Albert P. Selzer, author of the report, said that dizziness sometimes occurs when a person swims in cold water which enters his ears and causes abnormal activity in the ears' labyrinths where the sense of equalibrium is controlled.

The dizziness may lead to inability to tell the position of the body, panic, or even drowning, he said. Dizziness is especially likely to occur when only one ear is clogged. Cold water cannot reach that ear's labyrinth, but does reach that of the other unclogged ear. This sets up two different unbalanced reactions and produces dizziness and inability to tell body position.

In a person with wax in both ears, or in neither ear, the labyrinths' reactions to cold water are the same, and there is no dizziness. The dizziness resulting from wax in one ear is not confined to swimmers, but it may occur when cold air reaches the labyrinth of only one ear.

Two Boys Drown At Tweed

Two Tweed boys, one believed trying to save the other, drowned in the Moira River at Tweed Sunday.

Paul Hawkins, 8, apparently fell in as the two played on the shore and Bernard Akey, 11, plunged in to help his non-swimming companion.

Mike Courneyea, a brother-in-law of Paul's father, Gerald Hawkins, noticed their disappearance from the Hawkins' nearby home. He saw their bodies on the river bottom in clear water. Unable to swim, he called for help.

Steve McDonald, 16, swimming near the scene, brought the two boys out with the help of others. Firemen and Department of ands and Forests employees tried to revive them for three hours with inhalators.

LABOR INTERESTS ONLY CONSIDERED

(The Rural Scene)

The Ontario Federation of Labor has presented to the provincial government 18 recommendations for amendment to the Ontario Labor Relations Act.

The recommendations are the product of what the federation is pleased to call prolonged research by a committee of six union officials, three of whom are representatives of large international unions with headquarters in the United States.

Apparently the federation sees nothing improper in inviting representatives of foreign interests to take a hand in drafting amendments to Canadian laws, even as they draft the wage demands which their Canadian branches present to their Canadian employers.

The dictionary defines research as "diligent inquiry or examination in seeking facts or principles," or as "laborious or continued search after truth."

In the 18 recommendations of the committee we fail to find much evidence of either diligent seeking after principles or of laborious search after truth. But we could hardly expect such from a group of researchers all of whom have the same selfish interest in the findings.

The recommendations, as reported in the press, all seem calculated to facilitate the work of the labor unions in getting what they want in the way of control over the workers, power over the employers, and special privileges under the law.

Nothing is said in the recommendations about protecting the right of a man to work, to join the union of his own choice, or to refrain from joining any union if such is his choice, or to collect his full wage when earned without having to pay tolls to any union, against his will.

Nor is anything said about maintaining democratic control within the union itself in order to protect the members from the arbitrary actions of labor bosses.

Nothing is said about the employer's right to enter his property or to leave it, to ship goods out of it or to ship materials in, or to operate it during wage disputes if enough workers are willing to stay on the job.

Not a word is said about the obligations of strikers to respect the persons and the property of other people during strikes, nor about the sufferings which work stoppages inflict on the public.

Nor is anything said about the rights of the consuming public in wage disputes, for they are the people who have to pay whatever wages are agreed on.

In short the brief reveals no awareness whatever of any other interest than that of the labor unions.

This is a grave defect, for no government can be expected to legislate in the interests of one group of citizens to the detriment of the lawful rights of all other groups.

There is one suggestion in the brief which we heartily endorse. It is that the government itself take the initiative in gathering information on the effects and the shortcomings of existing legislation.

This is an excellent idea and, if carried out by understanding and fair minded men, might result in legislation that will protect the right of all classes and all citizens.

Within a short distance from any Ontario border point, resorts abound where relaxing in the sun is always the order of the day.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

One of the Bibles under preparation for Africa by the translations department of the British and Foreign Bible Society is in the Tonga language. There are half a dozen dialects or variations of Tonga, and translators are trying to put out a version that will cover them all, and be acceptable to the Ila speaking people as well.

The Tonga Bible should be ready about 1960, it is reported by Rev. M. W. Booth, agent for North and South Rhodesia and Nyasaland for the Bible Society. Mr. Booth is a Canadian, who served as District Secretary in Montreal for ten years before his transfer to Africa in 1955.

Mr. Booth tells of presenting a New Testament to an 80-year-old Ila chief who is still pagan. However, Christianity has so influenced the chief that he has built a splendid school, where his son is now a pupil.

To do this the African chief sold his funeral herd of 500 cattle. In a country where wealth is measured by the number of cattle a man possesses, a chief of his rank would provide a large herd to provide a feast at his funeral. There will be no slaughter of cattle when this Ila chief dies, for the 500 funeral cattle have been sold to provide an institution where learning and progress will bring new light and hope to the next generation.

One of the first books the children will learn to read is the Bible.

Signalling

Some confusion appears to persist about if and when turning signals have to be given. The Highway Traffic Act states: "The driver or operator of a vehicle upon a highway before turning to the left or right from a direct line shall first see that such a movement can be made in safety, and if the operation of any other vehicle may be affected by such a movement shall give a signal plainly visible to the driver or operator of such other vehicle of the intention to make such movement."

Signals may be given by hand or by approved mechanical or electrical devices.

Penalties for failure to obey this and other Rules of the Road were increased at the latest session of the Ontario Legislature. For the first offence fines range from $5 to $50; second offence from $10 to $100; third offence from $20 to $200.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

SALE OF CATTLE ON THE CARCASS BASIS

Sale of meat animals by producers on the carcass basis is on the increase. Hogs have been handled entirely in this manner since 1940. Next in volume for the past few years has been market lambs, of which some 40,000 were sold as carcasses in 1955 and about 50,000 in 1956, mostly in eastern Canada.

For the past two years increasing interest has been noted in the sale of cattle according to carcass weight and grade, as well as some veal calves. Records of the Canada Department of Agriculture Marketing Service, show sales of cattle on the carcass basis totalled 13,910 in 1955 and more than twice that number, 29,506 in 1956. The Maritimes accounted for 3,937 in 1956; Quebec and Ontario for 3,040, and Western Canada for 22,529.

These were cattle for which government grading certificates were requested and issued. Marketing Service officers have found there were also many cattle sales made where carcass grade and weight formed the basis of settlement, but where no statement of government grading was required by the seller. In some cases it appears the producer thought he was automatically getting government grading without having requested a certificate from the grader.

To avoid misunderstanding of this kind, it is desirable that beef cattle producers become more familiar with the details of the beef grading service provided by the Federal Department of Agriculture.

National beef grades were established several years ago to be used as an indication of quality to the consumer and as a basis of settlement for the producer, at the option of the buyer and seller of the product in each instance.

All beef carcasses in inspected plants are now graded for record purposes by federal graders, but no account is taken of individual farmer's lots unless there is a special request for it.

Practically all of the "choice" and "good" quality carcasses and some of the others are branded for consumer benefit in the retail trade.

The important point for the producer is that beef carcasses are not normally identified as to producer ownership or origin as are hog carcasses. The government grader has no idea whose carcasses he is grading unless care is taken to see that he is informed. Arrangements can easily be made at any grading centre to maintain the identity of a lot of cattle through to the packing house rail. If requested the grader will issue a government grade certificate for any lot of cattle so identified.

Carcass weight is not a factor in grading beef as it is with hogs so the graders do not supervise the weighing of beef carcasses, but when marketing cattle on a carcass graded basis, producers are interested in whether warm or cold carcass weight is used, and whether the carcasses are defatted before weighing.

Producers in the Maritime provinces and in British Columbia have made definite arrangements to have their cattle officially carcass graded. Farmers and their representatives have agreed both with the trade and the government graders os that satisfactory carcass weight and grade information is available to them along with the statement of settlement. The same may be done in other areas by any individual producer who so desires.

NEW RECORD IN CHICK PRODUCTION

Chick production in Canada reached an all-time record in 1956 when for the first time more than one hundred million chicks were produced within a calendar year. The total was 103.4 million, an increase of 25.8 per cent over 1955 and 30.3 per cent over 1954. Of the total, 34.3 million were for the broiler trade. Ontario had 65.8 per cent of the total chick production, followed by Quebec with 17.2, British Columbia 9.8, Alberta 3.8, Maritime provinces 2.1, Manitoba 1.2 and Saskatchewan 0.1.

WEED OF THE WEEK

JUNE THE TIME TO CHECK CRABGRASS

Mid-June is the time when lawn owners should be on the lookout for Crabgrass, advises the Fields Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Although at this time of year Crabgrass may look much like ordinary grass to those unfamiliar with it, it is actually the most troublesome weed the home owner has to deal with in his lawn.

In its early stages Crabgrass is lighter in color than lawn grass, has branching, smooth stems which may be either erect or prostrate and forms roots from the joints in the stem that come in contact with the earth. The leaves are short and broad, have rough margins and are hairy. By August, long finger-like seed stems appear, many of which grow so close to the ground that they are missed by the lawn mower. These stems then turn purplish-brown in color, and being an annual, Crabgrass eventually dies leaving bare spots — but not before millions of seeds have been shed to insure another crop the following year.

The best time to attack is in June, just as soon as new growth is detected. One of the most common chemicals used to kill Crabgrass is potassium cyanate at the rate of one ounce in 3 gallons of water per 400 square feet. It is advisable to apply a second spray in two weeks. Potassium cyanate or phenyl mercuric compounds are available in various forms and should be used according to the manufacturer's directions.

Other methods of control include sound lawn management, plenty of fertilizer and lawn grass seed well watered to encourage growth of suitable grasses which will tend to choke out Crabgrass. Water thoroughly only when the lawn really needs it. Do not clip the lawn too closely. When Crabgrass seed stems appear, pull them upright with a rake and clip them off with the mower; then collect the clippings and destroy them.

It takes persistent effort to keep Crabgrass under control, but the appearance of a well kept, velvet-smooth lawn is worth the labor involved.

CORN BORER CONTROL INCREASES FIELD CORN YIELDS

Grain yields of field corn have been increased as much as 23 per cent by one properly-timed application of an insecticide to control the damage done by the European Corn Borer. These were the findings of experiments carried on at the Canada Department of Agriculture Harrow Experimental Farm from 1950 to 1956, states C. G. Mortimore.

Outstanding increases in grain yields were obtained in three of the seven years. However, little benefit was derived from the application of the insecticide in the other four years when weather conditions controlled the corn borer population. In 1950, 1951 and 1956 the corn which received a single application of the insecticide outyielded the untreated plots by 12, 23 and 23 per cent respectively. In the intervening years, the weather in Essex County was exceptionally hot and dry during months of June and early July which is the period when the first brood corn borer moths emerge and lay their eggs. Weather of this sort is not conducive to either moth emergence or egg-laying, and, in addition, causes many of the egg masses which are laid to fall off the leaves. The result was a very low infestation of borers in these years and, consequently, little benefit from treatment.

The experiments showed that control measures became profitable only when there are 50 or more corn borer egg masses per 100 plants. Since these counts are made before it is necessary to apply the insecticide, the farmer can be fairly sure of getting returns on his investment before spending any money on such a programme. If the insecticide is applied at the proper time, only one application is necessary on field corn to reduce the corn borer population sufficiently to assure maximum yields. For best results the insecticide should be applied 7 to 10 days after there are 50 egg masses per 100 plants.

At the present time DDT is the most suitable insecticide for use on field corn because it is both very effective and reasonable in price. This material can be applied as a spray, in granular form, or as a dust. Of these methods, the first two mentioned are the most effective because the insecticide can be concentrated on the part of the plant where it will do the most good, namely, the whorl and leaf axils. Rates per acre for the different forms of DDT are usually stated on the container label by the manufacturer.

Hon. W. Goodfellow Speaker At Farmer's Picnic

Confidence in the ability of the Ontario farmer to meet the changing agricultural conditions of the day with a minimum of government interference was voiced by Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture, as he addressed the 12th annual Haldimand Farmers' Picnic and School Sports Day near Cayuga.

Addressing the large crowd that taxed the accommodation of the Kohler Rural Youth Centre, Mr. Goodfellow stated that it had always been his experience that Ontario farmers were not a demanding group as a whole. As a rule all they sought was the opportunity to carry on their own business.

"While the Ontario Department of Agriculture is ready at all times to be of service and provide the necessary legislative machinery to assist them in their various projects, there are lots of things that the farmer can do for himself and through the various farm organizations which have played a major part in our agricultural development."

Mr. Goodfellow said that he was conscious of the fact that the costs of production were such that the farmer was not enjoying the return on his labour and investment that he could reasonably expect.

"It is my experience that farmers get so absorbed in farm activities that they sometimes forget that production is secondary to marketing," said the Minister. "High production is of little avail if there is no market. We should all recognize the necessity of strong, stable marketing organizations."

Pointing out that Ontario was in the forefront in farm products marketing legislation, Mr. Goodfellow said that he knew that the farmers of Ontario could be trusted to use the facilities so provided. "It is forward and progressive legislation," he told his audience. I know that the Ontario farmer can be trusted to make intelligent use of such legislation. I have confidence that the farmers will not 'go off the deep end' in respect to marketing."

The Minister said that the farm commodity groups had some of the best farmers in Ontario within their ranks, which made for the exercise of sound judgment.

"Farming is not a one-way street," said Mr. Goodfellow. "The farmer who produces a quality product and the producer, by working together, can accomplish much to the benefit of the industry."

"There is no place for the inefficient farmer today," he said, "but there is a real place for the efficient man and he is entitled to a larger share for his labor."

"Speaking as a farmer, I am anxious to do all I can to improve the industry," he said. "With co-operation and assistance I am sure we can make steady progress toward the improvement of conditions for the rural people of Ontario.

Hon. James Allan, Minister of Highways and member for Haldimand-Norfolk, introduced Mr. Goodfellow. Mrs. George Ridley, President of the Haldimand Federation of Agriculture presided.

Preparations Well Under Wav For International Plowing Match

If the enthusiasm and energy that is being put into preparations for the forthcoming International Plowing Match which will be held near Simcoe in Norfolk County, can be taken as a guide, this year's International will be one of the best to be held in the long history of the Association. Dates for the Match have been set for October 15th to 18th.

Reports reaching the Ontario Department of Agriculture indicate that preparations for the event are well under way and that local enthusiasm is at a particularly high level.

A strong local committee under the Chairmanship of Ralph Golding, assisted by George Bramhill, Agricultural Representative, has been meeting regularly to co-ordinate the local activity. Some twelve sub-committees have been functioning effectively and will have everything in readiness for opening day.

Tented City will be located on the farm of Mike Lizon who has already made a start in preparing for the big event which will see a city rise on his farm land practically over night. He and his neighbours are co-operating in seeing that ample farm land is available for plowing, parking and demonstrations.

A Farm Improvement competition with some 200 farms being entered is now in full swing. Judging will be done early in September and the prizes awarded during the Match. This project will have the effect of dressing up the rural areas of Norfolk County for this special occasion.

The Match which is staged by the Ontario Plowmen's Association, with the co-operation and assistance of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, will be officially opened by Hon. James Allan, Minister of Highways, and member for the area, and Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Goodfellow will be the chief speaker at the annual banquet which closes the Match.

First issue of the prize list and programme, prepared by the Ontario Plowmen's Association, is ready for distribution. These will be mailed on request.

Applications for space are reaching the Secretary-Manager's office daily from food caterers and exhibitors. Early application for accommodation is advisable.

The plowing events will attract many visitors from all parts of Canada as well as the United States. One of the highlights will be the Canadian Championship Class, open to contestants from all provinces. The two top plowmen in this class will represent Canada in the 1958 World Match at Stuttgart, West Germany.

Many of the competitors and visitors to the International are expected to attend the 1957 World Match which will be held in Peebles, Ohio, in September. Canada will have two contestants in the World Match. They are Hugh Baird, of Blackwater, Ont., and Stanley Willis, of Cornwall, Prince Edward Island.

Salem W.A.

The June meeting of Salem W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Vene Hagerman, Carrying Place, a former member. The President opened the meeting with the theme song and theme prayer. Hymn No. 15 was sung and Mrs. Johnston thanked the hostess, Mrs. Hagerman, for the kind invitation to visit her.

Roll call showed 19 members and 5 visitors present. Correspondence was dealt with. A letter of thanks had been sent to Mrs. H. Dafoe for the gift of a lovely linen table cloth to the Society. Mrs. E. Brown extended thanks for the sick cards she had received. It was decided to redecorate a bedroom at the Parsonage. In Mrs. Dafoe's absence, Mrs. Lorne Hagerman volunteered to help at the next meeting.

The Treasurer reported $132.00 cleared at the Hoard's Sales Barn in May.

A committee of Messrs. J. B. Hagerman and Orville Jackson was formed to obtain information about the hall floor.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Frank McGee. Hymn 490 was sung. Mrs. J. B. Hagerman read the Scripture reading, Job 2: 1-10 and the explanation was taken by Mrs. Stanley Thompson. All repeated the General Thanksgiving in unison.

Mrs. Arnold Ray read a poem, "A Little Child." Little Miss Kathy Wickens sang two selections which were much enjoyed. Mrs. Mel Wickens gave a splendid report on the Convention held at Trenton recently.

A reading, "A man with a smile," was given by Mrs. Bert Heagle. Mrs. Geo. Sine rendered a solo with guitar accompaniment, "Jesus took my burden and left me with a song." Mrs. Harry Mayo gave a missionary reading, "On the food front on Malaya."

Mrs. Orville Jackson voiced thanks to the hostess, programme and lunch committee for the lovely afternoon spent together.

The collection amounted to $3.45 and the special roll call collection was $4.40. Hymn 502 was sung and all repeated the benediction.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

Parks

Three Tweed District Parks, namely Black Lake, Mazinaw Lake and Lake St. Peter, are open for public use, and we are pleased to report all three being well patronized by campers.

Black Lake and Lake St. Peter, being parks where swimming activities are permitted, have in addition to their staff, a Queens University student who is capable of rendering first aid and life saving to the park users, should such be necessary.

Improvement programmes are proceeding in all three parks to enable the Department to offer to the camping public greatly improved facilities. New controlled parking lots, modernized rest rooms and good drinking water will greatly benefit the picnickers and campers.

Camping fees are 75c per night, $4.00 per week, with a two week time limit.

Picnickers are being charged a season's fee of $1.00, in form of a windshield sticker, obtainable at any Park Entrance office, entitling the occupants of each car free use of all facilities provided in every park picnic area over the Province. New facilities are constantly being added for their convenience and safety.

Charged With Leaving Unextinguished Camp Fire

Mr. John H. Evans, of King, Ont., entered a plea of "guilty" in Magistrate's Court at Madoc recently when charged with leaving an unextinguished camp fire. Rangers and extra fire fighters had to be called out to check the blaze which spread out of control on May 7th on Lot 20, Concession 11, in the Township of Lake.

Mr. Evans was charged under section 5 (c) of the Regulations of the Forest Fires Prevention Act and in addition to paying a fine of $25.00 and Court Costs of $3.50, he was assessed for the Department's costs of $277.85, which were incurred in extinguishing the fire.

Summer Means No Thoughts of Carefree Holidays To Farmers

In urban factories and offices these days holiday notices have already been posted, and in some places there is talk of a shorter work week — a reduction from the well known 40 hours.

But on the general farms throughout Ontario, where the province's cream producing farmers are trying to make ends meet, there is little talk of leisure these days and, in fact, little leisure to talk about.

Spring on the farm means work, spelled out in capitals, particularly on the general farm where a half dozen things always need doing at once.

The farmer cannot neglect his dairy herd, for instance, when it comes times for spring ploughing or seeding, because the herd has fed him all winter. And, unless he takes care of them now, they won't do the same next winter.

Nor can he be casual about the grain or fodder crops that have to be planted, because these all work into the scheme of things. They provide either money he needs to carry on, or feed for the cattle and other livestock in his barns.

And so, although the days are longer, farmers are still starting and ending their days by artificial light. Spring means no thoughts of carefree holidays, but rather a continuing effort to crowd two days into one.

Retirement At 65 Bludgeoned By Industrialist

The practice of retiring men and women at the arbitrary age of 65 whether they are ready for retirement or still capable and willing to continue working comes under heavy fire in an article by William A. Mercer, President of William A. Mercer Ltd., in the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

He warns that society will not stand for the creation of a continuously increasing body of frustrated over-65 citizens. "This group itself would soon form a voting block strong enough to ensure government action on their behalf."

"If everybody were to retire at 65, we would look forward to one citizen living in idleness for every 4 in the labour force. If retired people were to live about as well as working people, this would mean that 1-5 of every employed person's income would have to be taxed away to take care of retired people alone. Obviously, society will simply not stand for the forced withdrawal of all our over-65 citizens from productive work. Society is not prepared to stand the cost. As a matter of interest, if all our over-65 farmers quit work today, we would probably starve to death."

He pointed out the sudden tremendous adjustment that forced retirement causes people who have been used to working all their lives to make, mentioning "The naive assumption that what has been a hobby can suddenly become a full-time pursuit. Have you ever tried fishing eight hours a day, five days a week?"

He said that a means of discovering the logical age for each individual person to retire would have to be found, as some men are ready for retirement before 65, and others are still alert and productive at a much advanced age "It's just one of those tough jobs which must be done by fair and responsible management," he continued.

Customers

Keeping customers is one of the most important factors in a business success. When a customer's account begins slipping away, there is always a reason for it, and, more likely than not, the reason is a disappointment in service. "A customer disappointed is a customer lost" is a true adage. Every lost account means not only loss of prestige but lost business and that much less profit.

R. B. Ingram Killed In Car Accident

The second member of his family to die in a car crash within three years, Robert Barry Ingram, of this village, was fatally injured late Monday afternoon when a car in which he was a passenger went out of control on Highway No. 14, a few miles north of this Village. Jewel Ray, 21, owner of the car, is in Belleville General Hospital in a serious condition. Both young men were taken to hospital by Duffin's ambulance.

The Ingram youth suffered a brain injury and died in hospital shortly before eight o'clock Tuesday morning.

Mr. Ray also suffered brain damage, severe facial and scalp lacerations and injury to his right foot.

The accident occurred two and a half miles north of Stirling at Broadworth's corner. The late model auto, owned and driven by Ray, was southbound when it went out of control. The vehicle went to the west shoulder, then swerved across the highway to the east shoulder and rolled over several times down the ditch, returned to the road and came to rest on its wheels in the centre of the highway. Both youths were thrown from the vehicle.

Memorial Service I.O.O.F. Lodges

Impressive Ceremony Held At Stirling Cemetery — Stirling Band Led Parade

Led by Stirling Citizens' Band under the leadership of Frank Harding, members of Stirling Lodge, No. 239, I.O.O.F. paraded to the Stirling Cemetery on Sunday afternoon for the annual memorial service in honour of departed brethren.

At 2.00 p.m. the brethren formed a parade at the lodge room on Charlotte Street, and marshalled by Bro. Ray Rose, proceeded to the Cenotaph, where a wreath was placed in honour of those who lost their lives in the Great Wars by Bros. Ray Sine and Leonard Wannamaker. A minute's silence was observed and the Last Post was sounded.

The march was resumed to the cemetery where the brethren were greeted by members of Laurel Rebekah Lodge, No. 211, marshalled by Sis. Marion Heath, who took part in the impressive ceremony.

Rebekah Ceremony

A circle was formed with the members of the Rebekah Lodge circling a cross in the centre and conducting a memorial service with Noble Grand Mary Hulin; Vice Grand, Olive Whitehead and Chaplain, Marion Carlisle, taking part. Flowers were deposited on the cross by the members in honour of departed members.

For Stirling Lodge, No. 239, R. E. Fox read the names of the departed brethren and the brethren each deposited a bouquet in memory of the departed.

The decoration charge was given by acting Noble Grand Bro. Frank Cosbey, and Bro. Geo. Weaver acted as Chaplain.

Visiting brethren were present from Springbrook and Madoc lodges.

Orange Lodges Attend Divine Service In St. Paul's United Church

Members of Stirling L.O.L., No. 110, Stirling L.O.B.A. No. 655 and District L.O.L. No. 3, attended divine worship in St. Paul's United Church on Sunday at 11 a.m.

The members assembled at the lodge room on Front St. W. and led by Stirling Citizens' Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Maurice Bell, paraded to the Church. Bro. Carman Fitchett marshalled the parade.

Rev. A. Packman warmly welcomed the visiting brethren and delivered a sermon from St. Paul's words in which are indicated the Higher Decencies of life. "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely and of good report, think on these things."

Dr. Packman said it does not do to have the "drunk" always in mind. If you have to touch a evil world sometimes, you must, an least, live in a decent world sometimes. With great respect, he went on to say that it is not good to have Communism in mind at all times, it leads to hysteria and wrong judgment, as we have seen to the South of us. And with the same respect, he mentioned the Roman Catholic Church. There was a time when a protest was in order, but this protest was made by men of the Church. They were not merely against Romanism, they were for an Open Bible. So are we, but do we ever read the Bible.

We live in an age of substitutes. Just so, there is a substitute for real religion, but no matter how many churches we identify ourselves with and no matter how many orders, if we are not honest, if we are not pure, if we are not just, then certainly we are no good either to the church or order.

We live in a day in which we may find that there are good Christian men and women in all churches, Protestant and others; but we are in danger of substituting religion for real goodness and our orders for real living.

Bro. Earl Holland, District Chaplain, read the first lesson.

Special music for the occasion included a duet, "Glory To Thee My God," by Mrs. Robert Hulin and Mrs. Harold West, an anthem by the choir and a number by the junior choir.

District No. 3 Ontario Horticultural Society Held Annual At Picton

The annual meeting of the Ontario Horticultural Society, District No. 3, held in Picton on Saturday, was the largest on record. Societies from Brockville, Gananoque, Kingston, Stirling, Napanee and Prince Edward were all largely represented. There were 170 attending the luncheon at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. For the short programme they were joined by 64 other persons while many other carloads of local people, unable to get into the hall, participated in the tour of gardens. In all, nearly 300 persons enjoyed the gathering despite the 90-degree temperature.

The annual was under the direction of Mrs. J. S. Shepherdson, R.R. 1, Kingston, district director, and Phil Dodds, Picton, President of the Prince Edward Society, and was the first ever held in Picton.

A welcome to Prince Edward was extended by Mr. Dodds who referred to the County's many lakes and bays, its famed Outlet Beach and the Sandbanks, and as a centre of dairying and canning.

Visitors introduced by Mrs. Shepherdson included John M. Clark, secretary-treasurer Ontario Horticultural Societies; Miss Ada Lynch, Scarboro, director for district 5; H. S. Ranson, Kemptville, director for district 1; Neil Porter, of Omemee, director for district 4; Mr. Cavay, Ottawa, director for district 2.

Highlight of the programme was an illustrated address by John M. Clark, who was introduced by Agricultural Representative for Prince Edward County, as one who has served the Province of Ontario as a civil servant longer than anyone else — more than 50 years.

Referring to the record size gathering, Mr. Clark said it indicated the strength and virility of the organization. The objective of 40,000 members in Ontario is being neared and with such numbers engaged in beautification, the province will become a better place in which to live. This is a worthy objective.

Mr. Clark referred to spring as the resurrection period of bud bursting and bringing reward to those in horticultural work. "Flowers are stardust — they are bundled up sunshine — during the creative age it is said that He smiled and there were flowers."

Mr. Clark told of his tour of the Orient last autumn, showing beautiful colored slides of Japan, Hong Kong, Java and Hawaii.

While Japan is not as large as Ontario it has a population of ninety million people. Tokyo is the world's third largest city and in five years will be the largest, he said. Though bombed during the war, few traces of the destruction remain. He spoke of the courtesy extended visitors, the politeness of people generally. Japanese homes have little furniture; one sits on cushions on the floor. Slides illustrated the talk on scenic wonders of each country with special emphasis on the mountains and lakes, fabulously decorated temples and pagodas and the colorful gardens.

Mr. Clark was thanked by Mrs. W. J. Kelly, Gananoque President.

D. A. Taylor presided for the election of a district director and secretary-treasurer. Mrs. J. S. Shepherdson and Mrs. James McHard, of Kingston, were unanimously returned to those offices.

Tribute to Mrs. Shepherdson's untiring efforts and enthusiasm were paid by Phil Dodds in moving a vote of thanks.

Reviews Accomplishments

Mrs. Shepherdson briefly reviewed some of the main projects of the various societies in the district. Prince Edward this year is concentrating on the district meeting, backing a Provincial Park at Lake-on-the-Mountain, flower show at the County Fair, Stirling plants tulip beds in cemetery and memorial park; Brockville's beautification plans include placing 50 plant containers in the business section, baskets of flowers in the tourist bureau, free seeds to interested school children, flower show in August. Napanee society decorates each church in town at least once a year, has birdhouse competition, monthly meeting, a column of Mrs. F. C. File in local newspapers is outstanding. Kingston Society undertakes plantings in flower beds, flower show and other centures. Gananoque has several plots in Bay Park, one being in charge of the Girl Guides, supervised by the Society, shrubs and flowers are planted at the entrances to the town.

Following a marked route, busses and cars proceeded to several large gardens. The Conger (White) Chapel on Highway 41, built in 1809 proved of great interest.

At the estate of H. J. McFarland, the magnificent home overlooking the Bay and its large acreage of grounds planted last fall, were much admired. The grounds were a riot of color as rose beds were springing into full bloom.

Wending their way to Lake-on-the-Mountain, the party was welcomed to the home of W. J. Ivey. Across the road, the ranch home of Dr. W. N. Turpel which is on the edge of the lake, was equally admired.

On the grounds of the Lake-on-the-Mountain resort operated by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Frizzell, visitors were served afternoon tea, courtesy Prince Edward County Society. From the mountain the panoramic view is unequalled in Ontario. Others were fascinated by the lake which has no apparent inlet or outlet and is believed to be fed by springs. The Frizzell resort itself added to the natural beauty of this spot.

Following tea, Mrs. Lor, of the Brockville Society, expressed thanks to the Prince Edward Society for "a wonderful day."

Two Frankford Men Treated For Shock

W. F. Rose, well-known Frankford electrical shop proprietor and his brother-in-law, Keith Mikel, escaped serious injury or death Wednesday afternoon when they received a severe electrical shock while taking down a television aerial.

They were removing the aerial from the home of Colin McEachern, manager of the Frankford Bank of Montreal branch, who is being moved to Gananoque, when the aerial contacted a hydro wire, short-circuiting and giving both men a severe shock. They were treated by Dr. D. McMullen at his office in Frankford and allowed to return home.

A Traveller's Note Book

If anybody else had said it, there would be murder. This was my reaction to an article by one of the leading designers for the automobile industry. The firm bearing his name provide designs for 127 corporations, and this is what he says:

"The automobile is an American cultural symbol. Some culture, one might say as he watches the parade of models . . . gaudy shells."

He goes on to say that the big companies make two conflicting statements. One: "We give the public what it wants, and second, whatever designs we choose becomes the accepted style."

These shells hide engines differing very little one from the other — remove the chrome and the name plates and you can't tell one from the other. Or leave a Ford or Chevy in the same garage for nine months and you get a Plymouth, or visa versa . . . all this he says, is missleading vulgarity. It's a hard word, but there is plenty of evidence for its truth.

Thinking about this new body each year, isn't it time someone got working on a new body for us hard worked men, at least, once in every ten years. That would be something indeed. It simply saddens me to see so many getting old bodies. However, it's good to be getting old, for as one has said before, if you weren't getting old you would be dead.

Another article I have little time to discuss is one of recent date concerning a "double crossing" of the Atlantic.

I'd be quite willing to back any man who can think up a way of canning some of the heat we are not enjoying now and heat we could do with in about six months time. Simple things like that would, I think, add to the joy of life. Give me a new body, and can some heat for me, and you've really done me a turn.

I heard recently that we are having more sunshine per week than the British get in a year. Just what good cause the observation is presumed to serve, I do not konw. In any case, there is nothing you can do about it, one way or the other. And, if it's true, then I'm really sorry to know that we have such an ill balanced rationing of sunshine in this world — another reason for canning the heat. For my part, the British may have fifty per cent of it, and I won't feel bad about it at all.

Having lived in that same country for quite a while, I don't remember ever counting the hours when the sun shined — I just enjoyed it when it shone — just now, I feel that a snow storm would make me really grateful to the one responsible for such things. Sunshine or not, I am thinking today of the figs which should be getting ripe on the fig trees in St. James' Park, London, England.

Among the news items from the Old Country is one about 'Gorgeous George' having his first holiday with Mrs. Drew since their wedding and apparently enjoying themselves, and one about a man who, because he loves sunshine, bought a house in the hills for £300 and £3 a week for the next 30 years. Aged sixty, he's sure to win, or almost so.

Tail Piece

"What was your score," asked a golfer of a Stirling plodder.

"Seventy-two," replied the rabbit.

"Why, that's really good," said his friend.

"It's not bad, I guess," S. P. replied, "but I hope to do better on the next hole."

Safe Crackers Pry Open Vault At Marmora

Using bars taken from a railway toolshed at nearby Bonarlaw, safe crackers early Sunday morning pried open a walk-in vault at the F. N. Marett general store at Marmora and made off with an undetermined amount of money and merchandise.

Mr. Marett said the thieves had gotten away with some money but had missed a further sum.

The bars taken from the Bonarlaw toolhouse were left at the scene.

Four Generations Attend Dinner Party For Mrs. F. Kent

Four generations were present to celebrate the 70th birthday of Mrs. F. G. Kent, R.R. 3, Frankford, on Wednesday evening, June 19th, at the home of her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kent, of River Valley, when a dinner party was held in her honor.

During the evening she was feted by neighbours, friends and relatives, and among those present on this auspicious occasion were her great grandchildren, Billie Mae and Dennis Jensen, of Barrie, formerly of Middleton Park, Trenton. Also present were her only daughter, Mrs. Walter Savage, Mr. Savage and Julie, and Margaret Wannamaker, a granddaughter.

The gifts were many and varied and a birthday cake, iced with 70 and outlined with candles was carried in by her son, Edward Kent and "Happy Birthday" was sweetly sung by her great grandchildren Billie-Mae and Denny Jensen; aged three and five. They also assisted their great grandmother in blowing out the candles.

Rev. H. C. Secker and Mrs. Secker and son, John, of St. John's Anglican Church, Stirling, were callers and he ably voiced the good wishes of all present for the continued good health and many more years of happiness for both Mrs. Kent and her husband in their lovely home on the Frankford Road.

Rev. Secker offered a brief prayer of thanks for the years that had passed and for future years to come and blessings for Mrs. Kent that she might be spared to enjoy her children and grandchildren. A short social time was spent in reminiscing and thanks given for a happy evening.

Local Phone Calls Now 10 Cents

The standard rate of 10 cents for each local call from public and semi-public telephones will become effective in Stirling next Saturday, June 29th, according to G. W. Proctor, Bell Telephone manager for this region.

Approval in principle of the 10-cent rate for local calls from all of Bell's public and semi-public telephones was given in November, 1951 by the Board of Transport Commissions for Canada. However, because of equipment shortages at that time, the Bell asked for the higher rate to be applied immediately only in the larger centres.

With equipment to modify the public telephones in the smaller centres now installed, the company has decided to complete the application of the standard rate throughout its territory.

One-third of Canada's buying power is concentrated within a radius of 100 miles of the heart of Metropolitan Toronto. Metro alone contains a population of 1,350,000 people.

COOKING HINTS — EGGS

Cook eggs at a low temperature since excessive heat makes them tough and leathery. To poach, drop eggs into boiling, salted water, swirling water around each egg as it is dropped in, then cook gently, below the boiling point. To avoid having shells of eggs crack while hard-cooking them, start the cooking in cold water. After hard-cooking eggs, put them immediately into cold water, to help prevent a dark ring forming around the egg yolks and to make them easier to peel.

Use eggs in place of flour or cornstarch for thickening sauces, puddings, etc. One egg is considered approximately equivalent to 1½ teaspoons cornstarch or 1 tablespoon flour in thickening power. When adding eggs to puddings and sauces, combine the beaten eggs with a little of the hot mixture, then stir into the pudding or sauce.

Use eggs in place of some of the baking powder in cakes and cookies to make them light. Beat whites and yolks separately for best results . . . beat whites until stiff, yolks until thick and lemon coloured. One egg is approximately equivalent to ½ teaspoon baking power. Before folding egg whites into cakes or puddings, beat into the whites some of the sugar called for in the recipe. One tablespoon sugar for each egg white is a good proportion.

If you cannot use all the unbroken leftover egg yolks the same day, cover them with cold water and store them in the refrigerator. Use egg yolks in making custards, salad dressings, sauces, egg nogs, ice creams, pie fillings or to coat croquettes or French toast or to bind together the ingredients in meat loaves. In general, substitute two egg yolks for each whole egg called for in these recipes.

Use egg whites in making frostings, fruit whips, gelatine desserts, meringues, sherberts, pudding sauces, angel cakes or for clearing coffee or soup stock.

For additional hints and recipes for using eggs, write to the Information Service, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa and ask for the folder "Eggs."

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

HOW TO STAY YOUNG

A magazine gathered a group of experts for a barnstorming session and came up with 143 ways to stay young. A careful reading of this mass of ideas disclosed one strong central suggestion common to them all:

To Stay Young, Welcome Change!

One expert, for example, recommended trying a new route to the office or job for a change. Another suggested changing pace, working a top speed for a whole week to get a feeling of zest and accomplishment. A third expert (a woman) recommended increasing your wife's household allowance voluntarily!

All the way down the line, the hint was there — to experience a new lease on life, be willing to change . . . indeed, initiate some changes of your own. How much sense does this make?

I can only say that simply reading these ideas made me feel younger. That is the inevitable result of change and challenge! Boredom and apathy disappear when you toss away a few blueprints and jump free from old ruts. That's why smart homemakers frequently rearrange furniture, or change the color of the livingroom drapes.

Did you ever wonder why pioneers leave their homeland and strike out to newer, younger countries? They keep young in mind and spirit by getting away from the old, from the cut-and-dried routine of a safe but dull existence.

Men and nations need the challenge of change to keep young and vigorous in spirit. That's why those countries which adopt some central blueprinted plan, like socialism, thrive very briefly at the beginning of the experiment and then fade quickly into dullness and finally into poverty.

The zip and zest of change is gone when a central authority places rigid controls on citizens, instead of leaving them maximum freedom to change and experiment and grow.

Men often let the years stamp them with that same rigidity. How foolish! Tomorrow, for a change, get out and romp with the youngsters — find a new route to your office or job — wear a flower in your lapel — bring home a present for the family. Make a change. It will keep you young.

What Others Say !

A cynic suggests that politicians would not have to spend so much time mending their fences if they did not sit on them for so long to begin with. —Kingston Whig-Standard.

NOTHING NEW

(Peterborough Examiner)

Of course juvenile delinquentcy is nothing new. Consider the historic instance of Tom, Tom the Piper's Son. But in those far-off days nobody understood that Tom was really compensating for a feeling of rejection, and so "Tom was beat."

THERE JUST ISN'T ANY

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

Says the Stratford Beacon-Herald: "A great many of us are still confused by all this talk about 'tight money.' As far as we are concerned money has always been that way." The only difference in the present situation is that there just isn't any money.

LET'S GET TOUGH WITH BAD DRIVERS

(Trenton Courier-Advocate)

Whether penalties visited upon others have a deterrent effect is a moot point. But one thing is certain. The man who knows that his own infraction of the law will be severely dealt with if he is apprehended and convicted will give some thought to refrain from breaking the law.

Nowhere does this need application more than in the matter of motor vehicle driving. For if, as most thoughtful people agree, the problem is with careless driving, then the best way to check that is to hit the driver who disregards the rules of safety.

Penalties for driving offenses have been stepped up. But that is only half of the solution.

What Ontario needs is a tough policy with respect to driving ability. Two things need to be done.

One is to adopt a system whereby every person found guilty of a traffic offense receives a certain number of points against his license. When the points reach an agreed total, his license to drive would be suspended, and not renewed until he proved ability not only to handle a car, but to understand and obey the rules of the road.

If bad driving is the real trouble, then periodic driving tests are the answer. Granted they would be an inconvenience, but so are accidents. Certainly stiffer driving tests are in order, and knowledge of the rules of the road should be made for No. 1 part of such tests.

Only a system by which bad drivers would be removed from the road will materially cut traffic accidents. The points system seems the fairest method. This would also affect auto insurance rates, since it is the bad drivers, in many cases uninsured and uninsurable, who keep rates high for the good driver.

The Bible Today

(By Rev. C. R. Rudd)

Representing all the Bible Societies of the world, the organization known as the United Bible Societies will meet in Brazil from July 10th to 23rd. Canada will send as official delegate the Rev. Kenneth G. McMillan, Secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada.

The first five days will be spent in Sao Paulo, reviewing Bible Society affairs in the world. The delegates will then move to Rio de Janeiro for the second session, when matters of policy and administration will be examined.

Right Rev. E. Berggrav, formerly Bishop of Norway, is President of the United Bible Societies. It is reported by this organization that in 1956, Scriptures were made available in 1,109 languages. Of these 210 have the whole Bible, 270 have the complete New Testament, and 629 languages have at least one book of the Bible.

The United Bible Society meetings will be preceded by an all Latin American conference of American Bible Society and British and Foreign Bible Society Secretaries in that area. The two major societies work jointly to support national societies in South America.

Pair Escaped From Kingston Found Near Bancroft

Edward Arnold Brooker, 28, and Thomas Cecil Jillings, 34, sought by police since their escape Wednesday, June 19th from Kingston penitentiary, were captured about 1.30 p.m. Friday about 25 miles east of Bancroft at McArthur's Mills.

Arnold Keller, of Denbigh, notified provincial police in Bancroft after he sighted a truck carrying two men and became suspicious. Six constables from Bancroft and Kaladar were sent to check on the truck and its occupants.

The pair were caught in the woods near McArthur's Mills.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

WEED OF THE WEEK

CULTIVATION AND HERBICIDES BEST ATTACK ON THISTLES

Thistles of several varieties are found in Ontario and are among our most familiar weeds, their prickles or spines having been encountered by most people at some time. They tend to grow in patches and are found more often in fields and along roadsides than in wooded areas.

Probably the most common member of the thistle family is Canada Thistle which is a perennial, spreading by creeping root stalks and seeds, reports the Field Crops Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The branching stem has numerous, unstalked leaves that are deeply indented and the margins have many rigid, spine-tipped teeth. The flower is a lavender shade, about 3-4 inch in diameter and borne in clusters; the seeds are equipped with tufts of hair to act as parachutes and enable them to travel long distances on a windy day.

The Bull Thistle is a deep rooted, biennial, 3 to 4 feet in height with large upright heads and deep-purple flowers. The leaves and stem are spiny and the flowers are much larger than Canada Thistle.

The Nodding Thistle has a large head whose weight causes the stem to droop, giving the plant a nodding appearance. This thislte is increasing and spreading very rapidly.

The Scotch Thistle is a very tall, branching biennial. The stems have broad, spiny wings and the leaves are deeply lobed with spiny margins. The flowers are large and purple.

Thistles growing in waste land or old pastures can be controlled by an early spraying with 2,4-D low volatile ester at the rate of a pound or more of acid per acre. When they appear in newly seeded fields, a spray will kill the clover present, and since many thistles if cut will send up new flower shoots, spudding or spot spraying is recommended.

Perennial Sow Thistle is not a true thistle but is a common weed in many grain fields. Since it spreads in the same way as Canada Thistle, a combination of cultivation and spraying with herbicides is recommended for its control.

ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION CENTRES PROVE WORTH TO BREEDERS

More than thirty thousand farmers in Ontario no longer keep bulls, using the services offered by Artificial Insemination Units to breed their cows, it is reported by the Live Stock Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. According to reports submitted by the managers of Ontario's seventeen licensed artificial insemination centres, 335,087 cows were bred artificially in 1956, an increase of 6.21% over the previous year.

According to the 1956 cenus, 1,285,384 cows and heifers two years of age or over were being kept for dairy and beef purposes, showing that 26.13% of all female cattle were bred artificially last year.

As the result of a system of semen exchange which has been worked out between the units, each unit is now in a position to offer services of bulls of all breeds common to the district in which it operates, without being burdened with the expense of maintaining bulls of all those breeds.

A consideraable number of farmers are breeding their dairy heifers or dairy cows from which they do not intend to raise herd replacements, to beef bulls, 99,599 cows being bred to bulls of the beef breeds. The actual number of these cows which were of dairy breeding was 31,898, the managers report.

Another matter of interest gleaned from these reports was that 40,467 farmers used the services offered by Artificial Insemination Units in 1956. Of this number 30,205 were reported to be using this service exclusively.

June and July are the months when breeding is at its peak, because a great many farmers prefer to have their cows freshen in the spring. However, this trend is not as pronounced in Central and Western Ontario as in Eastern Ontario, where a larger percentage of A.I. users are shipping milk to cheese factories. For example, the Belleville unit bred 45.75 per cent of the total number of cows serviced in June and July, while the Kemptville unit bred 38.17 per cent of its total during those same months.

This programme has been operating long enough to provide evidence of its impact on the dairy industry; 1,175 of the total 1,363 members of D. H. I. Associations are using the services of A. I. centres. Consequently it can be seen that a fair percentage of the animals in their herds are sired by unit bulls.

A comparison of the volume of business done in the seventeen licensed artificial insemination centres in each of the past two years is shown in the following table:

	Cows Serviced
Name of Centre	1956	1957
Oxford Dist.	69,063	58,881
Maple	49,112	47,513
Waterloo	53,108	47,007
Eastern Ontario	41,585	41,526
Toronto District	33,981	35,272
Quinte District	33,670	32,934
Hamilton District	34,261	33,702
Lambton	9,219	8,674
Essex	7,354	6,865
8 Other Assoc. in Northern Ontario	3,735	3,111
Totals	335,087	315,487

In addition to the above, three Northern Ontario Associations commenced operations late in 1956.

Holstein bulls were used to the extent of 57.40%, Hereford 18.42%, Shorthorn, Jersey, D.P. Shorthorn, Ayrshire, Guernsey, Aberdeen Angus and Red Poll comprising the balance.

EMERGENCY MEASURES TO MAINTAIN PASTURE IN SUMMER

What steps can a dairyman take to relieve the mid-summer pasture shortage?

There are several possibilities, states Dr. D. N. Huntley, Field Husbandry Department, Ontario Agricultural College. The first step is to make sure that available forage is used to best advantage. Often there is more pasture in mid-June than the cows can eat. Some of this excess can be stored as grass silage as reserve feed, ready to be fed out later in the summer if pasture is limited. This makes good use of the available grass, and at the same time is easier on the pasture field. Too much grass growth left on the dairy pasture may weaken the legumes.

There may still be time to seed emergency pasture crops. Sudan grass may be seeded up to the last week in June. It is a high-yielding crop on farms with light or medium soils. Sudan grass should be seeded at 25 to 30 pounds per acre, and fertilized with a high nitrogen fertilizer such as 10-10-10. On farms with heavy soils it is safer to use a mixture of two bushels of oats and 20 pounds of Sudan grass per acre. Garry or Rodney oats should be used because other varieties rust very badly when sown late. The cattle should be turned in when the Sudan grass is from 2.5 to 3 feet high. Earlier pasturing cuts down the yield seriously.

Over-grazing in mid-season is hard on a pasture, warns Dr. Huntley. It weakens the plants, especially the legumes, and the productive life of the pasture can be shortened, so that a long-term pasture, instead of lasting for five to six years, may last only two or three. Thus, if over-grazing is necessary, the field to overgrass is the one that is to be ploughed this fall.

Irrigation will certainly increase pasture production, says the O.A.C. authority. An irrigated ladino-orchard grass pasture at the O.A.C. in the dry year 1955 produced nearly 15 times more feed in July and August than the non-irrigated pasture. Although irrigation will increase production, it can be a costly practice; but if an irrigation system is available on the farm it is good business to use it on pastures. Before purchasing an irrigation system specifically for pasture other possibilities for increasing pasture yields should be carefully considered, advises Dr. Huntley. First improve the mixture, the fertility, and the grazing management; and then, if pasture is still limited, consider irrigation.

Complete information on pastures is obtainable in Ontario Department of Agriculture Circular No. 296, "Field Crop Recommendations for Ontario, 1957" obtainable at the office of the Agricultural Representative.

A TEST FOR POTATO COOKING QUALITY

Cooking quality of potatoes depends to a large extent on their degree of mealiness when cooked. The food value of the potato depends on its dry matter content, and many of the qualities of texture — or mealiness — and taste depend on the percentage composition of the principal components such as water, starch, protein, minerals and cellulose.

Over the past quarter-century research workers have devoted much time and a great deal of effort in trying to develop a practical method for determining the cooking quality of potatoes on a commercial basis. Of the many methods experimented with, the most practical has proved to be the specific gravity method. By specific gravity potatoes can be separated into classes based on the total solids content of individual or composite samples of tubers. The result of thousands of tests has shown that there is a very close correlation between the specific gravity or "total solids" content of potatoes and their cooking quality, reports N. M. Parks, potato specialist, Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Specific gravity is defined as, "the relative weight of a given volume of any kind of matter as compared with the weight of an equal volume of a standard substance, as water or air." Hence, the specific gravity of potato tubers can be determined either by (1) the flotation of individual tubers in a solution of known density, or by (2) weighing them in air and then under water and dividing the weight in air by the loss of weight in water.

If lots of potatoes with definite dry matter content are desired, then the specific gravity of individual tubers must be determined. However, potatoes can be separated into classes with a range of percentage dry matter content and their cooking quality predetermined by making specific gravity determinations on composite samples of any given lot of tubers.

An instrument designed for this purpose and known as a "potato hydometer" was developed in 1936 by E. R. Bewell, Plant Disease Investigator, Central Experimental Farm, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. This instrument is so designed that the specific gravity — per cent total solids — and per cent starch of any composite sample of potatoes can be read directly from the stem of the hydrometer.

In using the potato hydrometer the following points must be observed: (1) The composite sample of potatoes being used to make a determination must be clean and free of all soil particles; (2) A ten pound sample of potatoes must be weighed accurately; (3) The temperature of the water in which the basket of potatoes is suspended must be held at a constant temperature of 60 degrees F.

Water Safety For The Cottage

Never leave small children alone on a beach or dock.

Close off your dock area when you can't supervise it. An accident doesn't take long to happen.

Instruct your older children to check in and out with a parent before going off for a swim.

Have a rope or a ring buoy, and a paddle within easy reach on a dock to assist a tired swimmer. Even a shirt or towel, a pole or a branch can save a life.

Keep out of and off the water during an electric storm — water is a good conductor of electricity.

Have a life jacket for every non-swimmer and extra ones for non-swimming guests. A good life jacket is a safe investment.

Teach the Holger Nielson method of Artificial Respiration to every responsible member of the family, and stick an Instruction Sheet on your boat house as a reminder.

If your children play with plastic toys and tubes, be in the water with them, and don't let them out of your reach. A gust of wind can send them out into deep water in no time.

If your shore line has an uneven bottom, mark off the shallow safe part with floats or markers..

Do not permit swimming at night — unless the water area is well lighted, and completely familiar to each swimmer.

Do not permit any member of the family to water ski without wearing a life jacket. It is a fast sport, and accidents can happen before the boat has a chance to get back.

The time for sleepy relaxed sunbathing is when the children are safely in the cottage having a rest — not while they are playing on the dock.

CONSERVATION NEWS!

Fish and Wildlife

Fish that inhabit the shallow weedy bay areas of lakes are experiencing a difficult time because of the prolonged hot calm period of weather now prevalent in the area north of Lake Ontario. Many fish, especially rock bass, perch and some pickerel and probably others can be seen floating at the surface. Poor oxygenation of the water, coupled with high temperatures seems to promote fungus growth and gill erosion in fishes of the shallow warm water areas; the ultimate result is that some fish succumb to these conditions. In most lakes of the type mentioned, there are overpopulations of perch and rock bass that rarely are large enough to be utilized by anglers. The loss of these species is not considered a detriment to the fishery as a whole as we could well do with less of them. Cooler weather with a good breeze will soon rectify this condition.

Pruning In White Pine Stands

This summer for the first time it is expected to undertake pruning operations on a fairly large scale in the Tweed District.

Normally pruning is considered as being rather a costly form of stand improvement usually associated with the more intense forms of timber management.

In this instance, however, the Department of Lands and Forests have been fortunate in arranging to have the trees pruned with no cost to the Department other than supervision. An agreement has been drawn up between the Department and an operator who is interested in using pine needles to make Christmas decorations. The operator has agreed to prune the trees to the Department's specifications.

About 150 to 200 selected trees per acre will be tagged and pruned to a height of six feet. If the experiment works out, additional pruning will be carried out on crop trees at intervals during the rotation of the stand. Pruning is designed to produce trees that will yield high quality knot-free logs.

Good Drivers

We all know what makes up a good driver: He looks after the mechanical condition of his vehicle. He signals all turns or stops. He is courteous to pedestrians and other drivers. He is always alert and slows down in school zones. He keeps to the right and never attempts to pass unless he is perfectly sure he can do so safely.

He never passes on curves or hills. He slows to 20 m.p.h. at railway crossings. He never overdrives his headlights at night and always dims them when meeting other cars. He never drives when he's tired or overwrought nor does he drink and drive. He never drives faster or slower than the prevailing traffic speed. He never misses a road sign or marking — obeys them all — and is always prepared to give up the right of way.

The good driver leaves an adequate margin between his vehicle and the one ahead, no matter how other drivers cut into the space he's leaving. He carries useful emergency gear including fire extinguishers, first aid kit, flashlight and flares.

For the most part, to be able to say honestly: "I'm your man" to the above, would leave little left to be done except pay attention. But how many can qualify — even those who deliberately and conscientiously make an effort to drive well. Who is perfect — no matter how well intentioned?

Staying out of accidents must increasingly require an understanding of what is involved, the development of skill in driving and a never-relaxing attention to the existing road and traffic situation.
